General Strike Stalls France; New Gold Rush

PARIS (AP) — Millions of French workers went on a 24-hour strike today to pressure the government for substantial wage increases—a demand that helped bring a new rush for gold throughout Europe.

But with the strike on and with electrical, transportation and other public services cut throughout France, the price of gold fell back from the record levels it had reached over the past week.

The biggest drop came in Paris itself where the price for an ounce of gold fell 86 cents from its 21-year peak of $48.26 on Monday. Drops in the price also were reported in London and Zurich.

Millions of Frenchmen struggled through the day without many essential services.

Suburban trains stayed in the stations, but some long-distance trains ran. Candles or portable gas lamps were the only illumination in thousands of shops and cafes. Extra police were called out to keep traffic moving without electric signal lights.

Light rain discouraged hitch-hikers who usually line the main roads into Paris when bus and subway workers go on strike. Office workers who made it in found elevators idle and building corridors dark.

It was the first general strike in France since the great wave of stoppages that tied up the nation for six weeks last May and June. When Premier Georges Pompidou sat down with the labor unions to end those strikes, a general wage increase of about 15 per cent was agreed on. Another meeting was set for March to discuss the price evolution.

When the March meeting came up last week, the government said that the standard of living had gone up about 9 per cent last year. It said it could not permit more than a 4 per cent wage increase in 1969 without risking inflation and possibly devaluation of the franc. The unions disputed the government figures and called for a 12 per cent wage hike. The talks broke down.

Laser Beams To End Tooth Decay

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Laser beams soon may be used to seal the enamel of teeth and thus permanently end tooth decay, Xerox Corp. says.

Dr. Fred M. Johnson, a research scientist at Xerox's Electro-Optical Systems plant in Pasadena, Calif., developed the laser technique, which will be available to selected patients within two years, a company spokesman said.

The process requires focusing a laser beam on each tooth for 20-billionths of a second, the spokesman said. The heat from the beam will seal the porous enamel shut and will cause no more discomfort than is felt during dental X-rays the spokesman reported.

More Involved Says Dr. King's Widow

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The widow of Martin Luther King Jr., says his assassination was the work of more than one person and is still on the conscience of the nation despite the sentencing of James Earl Ray to 99 years in prison.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, who took over leadership of Dr. King's civil rights organization, says he is convinced by Ray's admission of guilt itself that the murder was part of a conspiracy.

"There are the unanswered questions," comments author William Bradford Huie, who wrote Ray's biography while Ray was awaiting trial on the murder charge.

But while these and other dissenting voices were being heard Dist. Atty. Philip M. Canale reiterated at a post sentencing interview Monday night that the state had uncovered no evidence at all of conspiracy.

Money Provided

Canale said the sums of money Ray spent hopping around the United States and Canada and finally to Europe, which seemed to some suspiciously large, probably came from the assassin's own efforts as a smuggler and holdup man.

Ray "got money from several sources," Canale told newsmen, and saved a "fairly substantial sum of money while in prison" in Missouri before the escape which led ultimately to King's death by a rifle bullet on the balcony of a Memphis motel.

Canale said his investigators believed Ray mailed the money out of the prison before he escaped.

Canale added that the investigators believe Ray obtained funds in "one armed robbery and maybe two robberies in Montreal," one in London, and probably by smuggling jewelry and drugs into the United States after his prison break.

Schorr was scheduled to continue his testimony today.

Perhaps the most attentive person in the courtroom as the trial went into its 10th week was Sirhan. He laughed self-consciously as the psychologist described the defendant's reactions to ink blot tests projected on a screen.

"He feels he has a special kind of insight of what's wrong and right," said Schorr. "I asked him what he felt and he said, 'There's nothing wrong with me.'"

Schorr described Sirhan as a paranoid, an individual who "protects himself from the stresses and strains and demands of society by behaving in a highly evasive or guarded manner."

He did not say if she would make any changes in the 21-year-old Cabinet Eshkol headed up to his death Feb. 26 of a heart attack.

Mrs. Meir, 70, was nominated by the dominant Labor party last Friday. Wearing a black woolen dress and square silver brooch pinned to her left shoulder, she told the 78-year-old president and a battery of newsmen and photographers:

"It is my fervent wish that it will be my lot to exceed what we all want—peace with the Arabs."

Told Sirhan Has Destroy Complex

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is pictured by a defense psychologist as a man who is "constantly thinking of destroying everybody, including himself."

That evaluation of the mind of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was presented Monday by Dr. Martin Schorr, a clinical psychologist, to the jury that must decide whether Sirhan had the mental capacity to plan Kennedy's murder.

Sirhan's defenders hoped to save him from the gas chamber by their claim that he did not. Premeditation must be proved for conviction on the first-degree murder charge.

Schorr was scheduled to continue his testimony today.

The text of the citation was provided to newsmen after word of the secret ceremony got around. It still bore the notation: "No distribution will be made of this release—per request of next of kin."

The citation said Sargent, then 29, was led by a former Viet Cong soldier on March 15, 1967, to a reported weapons cache in a tunnel in a deserted village in South Vietnam's Hau Nghia Province.

Sargent saw that the tunnel was booby trapped.

An attempt to destroy the booby trap failed, but enemy soldiers were flushed out. One buried two hand grenades into the midst of Sargent's men.

Atlantic Storm Abates; Apollo Welcomes News

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Weathermen flashed the good news to the Apollo 9 astronauts today that a storm was abating in their Atlantic Ocean recovery area and that conditions looked good for their return to earth Thursday.

The welcome information came as Air Force Col. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart whirled through a leisurely day, their eighth in area southwest of Bermuda Sunday and Monday. If the condition persisted, Apollo 9 would have changed its landing zone by firing its retro-rocket one or two orbits earlier or later.

McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart were in good humor as they were awakened by a radio call at 4:30 a.m.

Roosa: "It's a little chilly."

McDivitt: "Boy, I'm glad we chose this time of year to take our vacation."

Might Accept Draft: McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who said last fall he would not seek reelection as a Minnesota Democrat in 1970, now says he might accept a draft from his party—if it is strong enough.

McCarthy, relaxed and smiling, told an interviewer in his office that he has "not thought about getting out of politics altogether."

Back in the capital after a weekend trip to Minnesota, his first time home since the presidential election, McCarthy reinf-forced a statement at a Minneapolis news conference that he has made no final decision on whether to seek re-election to his Senate seat.

"I do not know what I will do in 1970," he said. "I might be drafted by the (Democratic) party. I would have to see how strong such a draft was."

In an Oct. 29 statement endorsing former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the presidency, McCarthy said: "I will not be a candidate of my party for re-election to the Senate from Minnesota in 1970. Nor will I seek the presidential nomination of the Democratic Party in 1972."

The enigmatic Minnesotan now characterizes his pre-election statement this way: "I set some limits; they do not mean much."

"There are a couple of things that I will have to shake down before making a real decision—before I even start to think about it," McCarthy said when asked if he intended to leave politics.

Nixon, GOP Leaders Confer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called in Republican congressional leaders today amid indications a decision was imminent on deployment of the controversial Sentinel missile system (ABM).

There were some indications, too, as Nixon ended a three-day Florida stay Monday night that the decision he promised last week might be announced in a national radio-television appearance.

Nixon said at the outset of his Florida weekend that he would be spending his time studying the ABM and he spent his last day at Key Biscayne discussing it with Henry A. Kissinger, his special assistant for national security affairs.

The President's options appeared to include delaying deployment of the $5-billion system still longer, perhaps until after disarmament talks can get started with the Soviets; cancel the project altogether; or go ahead with a modified version.

Pentagon officials were saying Monday that decision to shift Sentinel sites farther from cities would virtually rule out any significant expansion of the system for years.

The President was believed to have reviewed such a move as one of several compromises to meet Senate criticism that the system would evolve into a much costlier project and to conduct of its men during 11 months in North Korean prison.

Bucher, 41, was summoned to take the stand again today to answer questions from Navy attorneys and from the five admirals on the Navy court of inquiry.

It was Bucher's third session on the stand. He opened the inquiry with a narrative of the capture and his own torture, then reappeared a few weeks later to answer questions.

In commanding his crew for "success ... in ridicule and discreditation of the North Koreans," and in describing how his men were tortured, Bucher approached tears five times.

Gives Senator Shirt Off Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Paul Fannin, R-Ariz., says he will return the white dress shirt which was mailed to him by a constituent who is upset over Congress voting itself a big pay raise.

William E. Bell of Phoenix sent Fannin what he called "the shirt off my back." Bell said in a letter with the shirt "you're going to get it anyway," and added: "You might as well have it now."

Fannin said he voted against the pay raise.

Four Divisions Are Poised For Saigon Attack

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy fighting raged today at four points northwest of Saigon, and Viet Cong forces shelled more than 60 allied bases and towns, including the old imperial capital of Hue.

U.S. officers said the increased action signaled the start of the third phase of the spring offensive the enemy launched Feb. 23. They said the period from now until Saturday was a "critical one," and the alert status at some American bases was increased.

Military analysts said Saigon still appeared to be the Viet Cong's main objective. They said the main bodies of four enemy divisions—poised to the west, northwest, north and northeast of the capital—had made no serious move toward the city but that local regional forces were "gravitating" from the south and east toward the capital military district.

Spearhead Attack

"When it's time to attack Saigon," said one analyst, "the sub-regional forces will spearhead the attack, while the forces from the divisions will try to maneuver at the opportune moment and try to follow in."

The four fights in which American forces reported killing 120 North Vietnamese troops centered in a relatively small area of Tay Ninh Province, as did a large number of the rocket and mortar attacks. U.S. casualties in the ground fighting were reported as five killed and 20 wounded, all in a strong infantry attack on an American base 53 miles northwest of Saigon.

The North Vietnamese 1st Division sent about 400 troops against a patrol base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division called Landing Zone Grant. Reports from the field said about 50 North Vietnamese were killed in the second attempt in four nights to overrun the base under cover of a heavy barrage from 120mm mortars.

Driven Back

The attackers were driven back over two hours of pounding by gunship helicopters and artillery. Last Saturday, 154 enemy troops and 11 Americans were reported killed in an attack on the base.

Two miles farther north, other troops of the 1st Air Cavalry division backed by helicopter gunships reported killing 14 enemy soldiers without suffering any casualties.

Fourteen miles to the south, more than 100 North Vietnamese troops attacked an armored cavalry unit of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division in night bivouac. Tanks, armored personnel carriers and helicopter gunships raked the charging enemy, and U.S. headquarters reported 38 enemy soldiers killed with no American casualties.

Another 18 North Vietnamese were reported killed when dive-bombers and helicopter gunships caught them moving a mile from the Cambodian border, 63 miles north of Saigon.

Terrorists

One target of the overnight rocket barrages was Hue, the old imperial capital. It was the first time in this offensive it had been hit.

Eight civilians were wounded as eight to ten rounds, most of them 100-pound rockets, landed in the city. They appeared to be aimed at the government television station, but four slammed into a group of civilian houses and the others missed the station.

National police headquarters reported that Viet Cong terrorists nearly doubled their activity last week during the second week of the enemy offensive, assassinating 303 civilians, wounding 726 and kidnapping 294.

A spokesman said 464 terrorist incidents were reported during the week, compared to 273 the week before. He said that since the first of the year, Viet Cong terror cells have killed 1,312 civilians, wounded 3,434 and abducted 2,179.

Today's Chuckle

Under questioning by the court, however, Ray said he was still pleading guilty.

After being sentenced, the

But, Mrs. King continued, "All concerned people must press the State of Tennessee and the U.S. government to continue until all who are responsible for this crime are apprehended."

"Not until then," the widow said, "can the conscience of the nation rest."

Atlantic Storm Abates; Apollo Welcomes News

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Weathermen flashed the good news to the Apollo 9 astronauts today that a storm was abating in their Atlantic Ocean recovery area and that conditions looked good for their return to earth Thursday.

The welcome information came as Air Force Cols. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart whirled through a leisurely day, their eighth in space.

The flight plan called for picture taking, navigation checks and rest as the astronauts continued to test out the Apollo command ship to prove its durability for a 10-day man to the moon mission.

Keep Working On It

Astronaut Stuart Roosa, the capsule communicator in mission control, told the spacemen "the weather looks like it's shaping up real well for Thursday morning. It's gonna be pretty good."

Commander McDivitt replied:

"That's fine and dandy. Stu, you did good work."

Roosa reported a forecast of winds of 15 knots and seas four to five feet with a few higher swells.

This is well within the limits of 28-knot winds and eight-foot waves that flight controllers consider acceptable.

Nevertheless, McDivitt quipped: "Keep working on it. That's not down to my specifications."

Planned splashdown time is 10:24 a.m. EST, with the carrier Guadalcanal waiting to retrieve the astronauts.

In Good Humor

Mission control had been concerned about high winds and waves that buffeted the landing area southwest of Bermuda Sunday and Monday. If the condition persisted, Apollo 9 would have changed its landing zone by firing its retro-rocket one or two orbits earlier or later.

McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart were in good humor as they were awakened by a radio call at 4:30 a.m.

Roosa: "It's a little chilly."

McDivitt: "Boy, I'm glad we chose this time of year to take our vacation."

"We'll try not to do that," Scott answered.

McDivitt reported "it's a beautiful day over Africa. How is it in Houston?"

Roosa: "It's a little chilly."

McDivitt: "Boy, I'm glad we chose this time of year to take our vacation."

Might Accept Draft: McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who said last fall he would not seek re-election as a Minnesota Democrat in 1970, now says he might accept a draft from his party if it is strong enough.

Compulsory Arbitration Sought For City Help

LANSING (AP) — A bill aimed at halting work stoppages in contract disputes involving municipal police and fire departments was introduced Monday in the State Senate.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Stanley Novak, D-Detroit, would provide for compulsory arbitration in such disputes.

Providing for binding arbitration are not now on Michigan's law books and police and fire departments in some communities have resorted to work stoppages to force their demands or further negotiations with municipal officials.

Novak's bill sets up a timetable for arbitration, providing that either party may initiate binding arbitration proceedings within 30 days after the dispute has been submitted to mediation and fact-finding.

Findings of the arbitration panel would be "final and binding upon the parties" if supported by "competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record" and agreed to by a majority of the panel.

In other action, the Senate moved into final-vote position a bill allowing a district judge or magistrate to jail a person for up to 15 days before holding a preliminary examination.

State law now provides for the hearing to be held within 10 days after the person is brought before the magistrate.

"This bill amounts to an extension of a sentence from 10 to 15 days," argued Sen. Coleman A. Young, D-Detroit. "It only affects the poor."

Also introduced in the Senate were bills to:

—Allow Michigan residents to purchase rifles and shotguns in any state contiguous to Michigan if the purchases conformed to the Federal Gun Control Act of 1968.

—Make possession of a knife with a more than three-inch blade a felony.

—Establish a State Boundary Commission and prescribe its duties.

Report Cambodia To Free Fliers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four U.S. fliers imprisoned in Cambodia for a month are in the process of being released, according to reports reaching Washington.

There was no immediate announcement from the White House or the State Department concerning the four. Cambodia says they were shot down when their plane violated Cambodian airspace Feb. 12.

However, it was understood that arrangements were under way for turning the men over to the Australian embassy, which represents U.S. interests in Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital.

The fliers were identified last week as Laird P. Osburn, Maj. Querin Herlik and Sgts. John Fisher and Rob Pryor. They were captured when their small observation plane was shot down Feb. 12.

Cavia, also referring to the city's county tax payment, said it would be a "double dip" for the city to agree to additional support. He said the primary purpose of city government is to provide for all its citizens and not just a few in terms of basic needs.

Not Anti-Citizens

"If we are against the center, this does not mean we are against the senior citizens," he said.

Reque, supporting the request, noted that the city invests in youth programs and "why not the elderly?"

"They are equally deserving," he added.

Manistique's Senior Citizens center opened in June, 1967, classified as a three-year demonstration project. Federal support has decreased with each year of operation and by April, 1970, the fourth year of operation, the center must be self-sustaining with local support.

Richard Marsh of Gulliver has been director of the center since its inception, however, Marsh has indicated he will resign his directorship soon and recommend that a senior citizen be appointed to the position.

This, he has pointed out, would eliminate a portion of the administrative cost now included in the center's budget since most retired persons are limited in earnings under Social Security regulations.

The senior citizens plan a meeting tonight to discuss their future activities in view of last night's defeat.

Require Tracks To Kick In More

LANSING (AP) — A bill requiring horse racing tracks to give an additional $100,000 to cities may force the House of Representatives to decide if gambling is tainted.

During a debate on the proposal, Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, offered an amendment that, in his terms, would "cut out all the hypocrisies" of the 1959 state racing bill.

Montgomery said provisions of the law transferring half of all harness racing revenues to the State Agriculture Department for racing programs at county and district fairs should be eliminated.

Montgomery said he wanted to save county fair patrons from being "tainted" by money from "gamblers." Money from the state general fund should be used to support the annual autumn racing programs at regional fairs, he added.

Montgomery offered his amendment to a bill requiring tracks to increase from $500,000 to $600,000 the funds given to the four cities in which tracks are located.

Under the bill, $100,000 would be the most cities could receive from tracks in their areas.

Other legislators indicated they want to change the distribution of funds received by the state from racing programs. One change would cut the state subsidy of county fair racing by 25 per cent. Montgomery, however, seeks to eliminate that.

Rep. Daniel S. Cooper, D-Oak Park, a co-sponsor of the measure, said the increase would help offset city expenses in providing police protection at the tracks.

Cooper added that the track at Hazel Park received $10 million a year.

In other action the House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

—Allow doctors to treat youngsters for venereal disease without telling their parents.

—Increase reimbursement of farmers for destruction of live stock contaminated by tuberculosis or Bang's disease.

Introduced by Rep. Phillip O. Pittenger, R-Lansing, was a bill that would establish a fund for construction of a 300-bed nursing home to care for Michigan veterans of the U. S. armed forces.

Compulsory Arbitration Sought For City Help

LANSING (AP)—A bill aimed at halting work stoppages in contract disputes involving municipal police and fire departments was introduced Monday in the State Senate.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Stanley Novak, D-Detroit, would provide for compulsory arbitration in such disputes.

Providing for binding arbitration are not now on Michigan's law books and police and fire departments in some communities have resorted to work stoppages to force their demands or further negotiations with municipal officials.

Novak's bill sets up a timetable for arbitration, providing that either party may initiate binding arbitration proceedings within 30 days after the dispute has been submitted to mediation and fact-finding.

Findings of the arbitration panel would be "final and binding upon the parties" if supported by "competent, material and substantial evidence on the whole record" and agreed to by a majority of the panel.

In other action, the Senate moved into final-vote position a bill allowing a district judge or magistrate to jail a person for up to 15 days before holding a preliminary examination.

State law now provides for the hearing to be held within 10 days after the person is brought before the magistrate.

"This bill amounts to an extension of a sentence from 10 to 15 days," argued Sen. Coleman A. Young, D-Detroit. "It only affects the poor."

Also introduced in the Senate were bills to:

—Allow Michigan residents to purchase rifles and shotguns in any state contiguous to Michigan if the purchases conformed to the Federal Gun Control Act of 1968.

—Make possession of a knife with a more than three-inch blade a felony.

—Establish a State Boundary Commission and prescribe its duties.

Offers $1,000 Loan

Attorney U. S. A. Heggblom, speaking in favor of city support, said he would loan the city $1,000, interest free, if council would approve the request. The city could repay the money by crediting his tax bills, he suggested.

Heggblom was loudly applauded by the audience as he concluded his remarks.

Referring to county support of the center, DeMars pointed out that the city pays about 40 per cent of tax monies received by the county and in practice is contributing more than $430 annually in utilities.

Cayia, also referring to the city's county tax payment, said it would be a "double dip" for the city to agree to additional support. He said the primary purpose of city government is to provide for all its citizens and not just a few in terms of basic needs.

District State Forests' Cut 16 Pct. Under 1967's

By WESLEY LEHMANN
District Forest Supervisor
Dept. National Resources

Production of forest products on the state lands in District III decreased in 1968 from 1967 by 16 per cent, with 42,451 cords harvested. The district includes Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft, Marquette and part of Alger.

It is, of course, our objective to harvest the allowable cut on each forest area each year and while we have never achieved this objective, it remains an important goal. In the case of jackpine pulpwood we must restrict our sales to remain within the allowable cut.

And in the Menominee Forest, we must restrict the cutting of almost all species to maintain a continuous supply of forest products. Demand for hardwood sawlogs exceeded our supply on the Bay de Noc Forest, as it has in many locations for quite a few years. Both timber producers and landowners were concerned with the generally poorer market conditions that existed in the latter part of 1967 and 1968, but demand for some species approached or exceeded supply in some forest areas in 1968.

Harvest Or Lose It
The Michigamme Forest, for example, achieved a production exceeded by only the year 1966 and produced 9,911 cords of wood in 1968. The problem is to balance the cut against the available wood supply, and our greatest concern is still to find markets for a surplus of wood which must be harvested or lost.

Commercial harvest affords us our most extensive and dependable means of forest and wildlife habitat improvement. Our multiple use approach to land management requires that we do all we can to provide suitable browse conditions for the existing deer herd. In general, this means the maximum cut possible.

There was a cut of 2,011 cords of cedar, primarily on the Menominee, Bay de Noc and Manistique forests, in the winter months. Each cord of cedar cut makes available about 500 pounds of browse so that the harvest of the cedar alone produced 1,456,000 pounds of browse, or 725 tons of deer food, the largest single man-made contribution to the deer's winter food supply.

A total of 37 blocks of timber were offered at auction and 1,680 acres marked for cutting.

Direct Seeding

Direct seeding of jack pine was employed on 145 acres, and 107 acres were planted to red pine. These activities occurred on the Michigamme, Manistique rivers, and Menominee State Forests.

Pruning of 100 acres of young red pine was accomplished to provide for clear lumber or veneer in future, and non-commercial cutting of residual trees in aspen cuttings was made to insure abundant reproduction.

Six land exchange applications were processed plus 1,365 acres in the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. exchange, which, of course, is to accommodate existing mining development.

Six easements were obtained, 44 mineral permits, 10 use permits, and 4 road access permits were issued.

Interest in tax deferral

through provisions of the Commercial Forest Reserve Act increased during 1968 as application was made to list 54,609 acres under the Act. The major portion of these applications were on the Menominee and Michigan Forests.

(Editor's note: Kimberly

Clark Corp., largest owner of U.P. industrial forest lands, made its first big transfer of its forest lands from the ad-ad-forex tax rolls to the Commercial Forest Reserve, transfering about 100,000 acres. Mead-

Michigan, the former Celotex timberlands in the western

U.P. also made a large transfer to the Commercial Forest Reserve.)

We continue to look for recreational opportunities on state owned lands. Disking to promote blueberry production was made on 20 acres of the Menominee Forest, and to satisfy the interest of the forest visitor, a forest drive was designed on this acreage.

Camps Use Up

A grouse hunter walking trail was established on the Manis-ticque River Forest as the result of a joint effort by DNR game and forestry personnel. And a new snowmobile trail—the Seal

Choux Point Trail bordering

Lake Michigan—which offers a real challenge to snowmobilers —was opened for use. This brings to 5 the number of existing trails in the district.

The use of our 13 campgrounds increased during 1968

by more than 10 per cent, as a total of 20,744 camper days were recorded. The campgrounds on the Escanaba River

Forest were the most popular, accounting for 8,800 campers of the 20,000-plus campers recorded. Economists say that campers spend $4 per camper per day so spending in this area as a result of the State

Forest campgrounds are estimated at $82,976.

Aid Private Owners

Assistance is provided to priate forest land owners upon request, and during the last year 51 owners were given management assistance on 3,920 acres of land. Management plans were developed for half of this acreage.

Area foresters and their assistants marked 326 acres of timber for private landowners' cutting.

What of the coming year? We are hopeful that improved markets will allow for increased harvest of our allowable cut.

We shall try to make more stumpage available so that harvest can occur if markets and labor are sufficient to harvest an increased cut.

We shall attempt to make cuttings strategic, as directed by our game biologists, to benefit deer to the utmost. Particularly is this true with cuttings that will include cedar.

We shall attempt to maintain our campgrounds so that they are inviting and exploit their natural appeal and opportunity for recreation. Our objective with the public access sites shall be the same.

Cannons Fire Propaganda Cards

DETROIT (AP) — A series of blasts from homemade mortar cannons Monday sent propaganda cards opposing gun control legislation and communism scattering at three different locations.

The cards were signed "Minutemen, Kansas City, Missouri."

One of the explosions was set off in the lobby of the fashionable Fisher Theatre in an area of midtown Detroit known as New Center, while two others detonated at spots in downtown Detroit.

There were no injuries and no property damage.

The 12-inch cannons were fashioned from five-inch diameter pipes set in coffee cans, police said, and apparently used black powder.

Police Insp. Roy Chlopak said there were no witnesses to the setting of any of the three cannons. "We'll need a break to crack this one," he added.

Junk Mail Bill

LANSING (AP) — A bill to curb unsolicited merchandise sent by mail has the backing of representative Frank Wierzbicki of Detroit. Wierzbicki, a Democrat and chairman of the House Consumers and Agriculture committee, said he considers the bill "necessary legislation."

It would allow a recipient to refuse to accept delivery of mailed merchandise, to refuse to pay for it, and to use it or get rid of it any way he might choose.

THIS IS THE forest stand that remained on the Michigamme State Forest after a 1968 cut removed the older stand of 100 to 120-year-old pines. These residual trees are 60 to 70 years old and are red and white pines. There's great pressure for sawlogs on the state forests of the U.P. because of the previously poor pulpwood market and the very high price of lumber. District State Forests' Cut 16 Pct. Under 1967's

By WESLEY LEHMANN
District Forest Supervisor
Dept. National Resources

Production of forest products on the state lands in District III decreased in 1968 from 1967 by 16 per cent, with 42,451 cords harvested. The district includes Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft, Marquette and part of Alger.

It is, of course, our objective to harvest the allowable cut on each forest area each year and while we have never achieved this objective, it remains an important goal. In the case of jackpine pulpwood we must restrict our sales to remain within the allowable cut.

And in the Menominee Forest, we must restrict the cutting of almost all species to maintain a continuous supply of forest products. Demand for hardwood sawlogs exceeded our supply on the Bay de Noc Forest, as it has in many locations for quite a few years. Both timber producers and landowners were concerned with the generally poorer market conditions that existed in the latter part of 1967 and 1968, but demand for some species approached or exceeded supply in some forest areas in 1968.

Harvest Or Lose It

The Michigamme Forest, for example, achieved a production exceeded by only the year 1966 and produced 9,911 cords of wood in 1968. The problem is to balance the cut against the available wood supply, and our greatest concern is still to find markets for a surplus of wood which must be harvested or lost.

Commercial harvest affords us our most extensive and dependable means of forest and wildlife habitat improvement. Our multiple use approach to land management requires that we do all we can to provide suitable browse conditions for the existing deer herd. In general, this means the maximum cut possible.

There was a cut of 2,011 cords of cedar, primarily on the Menominee, Bay de Noc and Manistique forests, in the winter months. Each cord of cedar cut makes available about 500 pounds of browse so that the harvest of the cedar alone produced 1,456,000 pounds of browse, or 725 tons of deer food, the largest single man-made contribution to the deer's winter food supply.

A total of 37 blocks of timber were offered at auction and 1,680 acres marked for cutting.

Direct Seeding

Direct seeding of jack pine was employed on 145 acres, and 107 acres were planted to red pine. These activities occurred on the Michigamme, Manistique rivers, and Menominee State Forests.

Pruning of 100 acres of young red pine was accomplished to provide for clear lumber or veneer in future, and non-commercial cutting of residual trees in aspen cuttings was made to insure abundant reproduction.

Six land exchange applications were processed plus 1,365 in the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. exchange, which, of 44 mineral permits, 10 use permit, and 4 road access permits were issued.

Interest in tax deferment through provisions of the Commercial Forest Reserve Act increased during 1968 as application was made to list 54,609 acres under the Act. The major portion of these applications were on the Menominee and Michigamme Forests.

(Editor's note: Kimberly Clark Corp., largest owner of U.P. industrial forest lands, made its first big transfer of its forest lands from the advalorem tax rolls to the Commercial Forest Reserve, transferring about 100,000 acres. Mead-Michland, the former Celotex timberlands in the western U.P., also made a large transfer to the Commercial Forest Reserve.)

We continue to look for recreational opportunities on state owned lands. Disking to promote blueberry production was made on 20 acres of the Menominee Forest, and to satisfy the interest of the forest visitor, a forest drive was designed on this forest.

Camps Use Up

A grouse hunter walking trail was established on the Manistique River Forest as the result of a joint effort by DNR game and forestry personnel. And a new snowmobile trail—the Seul Choix Point Trail bordering Lake Michigan—which offers a real challenge to snowmobilers—was opened for use. This brings to 5 the number of existing trails in the district.

The use of our 13 campgrounds increased during 1968 by more than 10 per cent, as a total of 20,744 camper days were recorded. The campgrounds on the Escanaba River Forest were the most popular, accounting for 8,800 campers of the 20,000-plus campers recorded. Economists say that campers spend $4 per camper per day so spending in this area as a result of the State Forest campgrounds are estimated at $82,976.

Aid Private Owners

Assistance is provided to private forest land owners upon request, and during the last year 51 owners were given management assistance on 3,920 acres of land. Management plans were developed for half of this acreage.

Area foresters and their assistants marked 326 acres of timber for private landowners' cutting.

What of the coming year? We are hopeful that improved markets will allow for increased harvest of our allowable cut.

We shall try to make more stumpage available so that harvest can occur if markets and labor are sufficient to harvest an increased cut.

We shall attempt to make cuttings strategic, as directed by our game biologists, to benefit deer to the utmost. Particularly is this true with cutting that will include cedar.

We shall attempt to maintain our campgrounds so that they are inviting and exploit their natural appeal and opportunity for recreation. Our objective with the public access sites shall be the same.

Cannons Fire Propaganda Cards

DETROIT (AP) — A series of blasts from homemade mortar canards Monday sent propaganda cards opposing gun control legislation and communism scattering at three different locations.

The cards were signed "Minutemen, Kansas City, Missouri."

One of the explosions was set off in the lobby of the fashionable Fisher Theatre in an area of midtown Detroit known as New Center, while two others detonated at spots in downtown Detroit.

There were no injuries and no property damage.

The 12-inch cannons were fashioned from five-inch diameter pipes set in coffee cans, police said, and apparently used black powder.

Police Insp. Roy Chlopian said there were no witnesses to the setting of any of the three cannons. "We'll need a break to crack this one," he added.

Junk Mail Bill

LANSING (AP) — A bill to curb unsolicited merchandise sent by mail has the backing of representative Frank Wierzbicki of Detroit. Wierzbicki, a Democrat and chairman of the House Consumers and Agriculture committee, said he considers the bill "necessary legislation."

It would allow a recipient to refuse to accept delivery of mailed merchandise, to refuse to pay for it, and to use it or get rid of it any way he might choose.

THIS IS THE forest stand that remained on the Michigamme State Forest after a 1968 cut removed the older stand of 100 to 120-year-old pines. These residual trees are 60 to 70 years old and are red and white pines. There's great pressure for sawlogs on the state forests of the U.P. because of the previously poor pulpwood market and the very high price of lumber. Gov. William G. Milliken blitzed through the Upper Peninsula Friday and Saturday, taking brief looks at a number of big ski areas, visiting a snowmobile competition at Wetmore and popping in on Escanaba for 90 minutes and a walking tour through a deer yard.

It was a welcome visit — his first to the Upper Peninsula as governor since taking office from George Romney in January — but all too short and too superficial.

The governor's itinerary took him from Ironwood to Marquette, Munising, Escanaba and Iron Mountain in less than a day. His stops along the way appeared carefully chosen to associate him with "popular causes," providing a maximum exposure to the public and news media in a minimum of time.

Even the lower Michigan press corps which flew along in a second airplane regarded the trip as "more fun than work." The Associated Press dispatched the "story" of the trip in a few paragraphs, quoting Milliken as saying he was tremendously impressed with the recreational developments in the U. P.

It's interesting to know that the governor was impressed with the facilities. Many of the people who talked with him were impressed with the governor and his friendly, easy manner.

But "impressions" of showpiece facilities don't go very far toward solving some of the real problems in the U. P. It's very easy to be "impressed" with Cobo Hall in Detroit if the observer isn't aware that 12th St. also exists.

There are serious problems which exist in the U. P. — highways, economy, forest industry, industrial development, and tourism to name a few — and unless some meaningful discourse results between leaders of the Upper Peninsula and leaders of the rest of Michigan the problems are going to continue.

Milliken said that he "gathered" from some of his discussions that highways are the top priority in the Upper Peninsula and that he is hopeful some further funding will be forthcoming through his association in the Great Lakes Regional Commission.

He added, however, that nothing specific has been developed.

This has been a problem for too long in the Upper Peninsula — nothing specific. There is talk about getting an Interstate Highway running from St. Ignace west to Ironwood, but the funds from a mere 4.5 miles of divided highway between Gladstone and Rapid River were diverted into lower Michigan and now that project isn't scheduled for construction until the early 1970s.

Gov. Milliken said his recommendations for distribution of the recreation bond issue's $100 million — recommendations which will give some $53 million to urban areas if the legislature approves — were based on the latest information available from a special task force. From the initial proposals last year, however, the outlying areas of the state are again being short-changed.

Perhaps the Upper Peninsula, which doesn't have a fraction of the votes as Wayne County, should be satisfied with a smile and a handshake from the state's chief executive now and then, but President Nixon seemed to make some progress with our European neighbors during his recent tour and Milliken might do well to consider the same type of trip to the Upper Peninsula — a real "working" trip.

Two Peoples

It was a year ago that the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders issued its landmark warning that America was in danger of splitting into two societies — one black, one white, separate and unequal.

What progress has been made since then in solving the country's foremost domestic crisis? A major first-anniversary appraisal finds: Not much.

"One Year Later," a wide-ranging evaluation carried out by two organizations concerned with the problems of the nation's cities, echoes the words of the Koerner report:

"We are a year closer to being two societies," it concludes, "black and white, increasingly separate and scarcely less unequal."

The report was prepared by the staffs of Urban America, Inc., headed by former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina, and The Urban Coalition, headed by former Health, Education and Welfare Secretary John W. Gardner.

It finds that while some steps have been taken toward eliminating racial discrimination and poverty in the center city, progress has nowhere been in scale with the problems:

• "Poverty remains a pervasive fact of life . . . and the continuing disparity between this poverty and the general affluence remains a source of alienation and discontent."

• "Ghetto schools continue to fail, and the small amount of progress that has been made has been counterbalanced by a growing atmosphere of hostility and conflict in many cities."

• "At present, there are no programs that seriously threaten the continued existence of the slums."

To Fight Drugs Takes Knowledge

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer
Wise parents will try to lead from the strength of knowledge in discussing drugs with their children. Only that way are they likely to be effective; only that way can they speak intelligently.

Knowledge in this case must be based on the facts about the drugs themselves — what they are like and what they do to people. Here is a rundown on the principal drugs being used or abused.

Marijuana

It's more commonly known as pot, grass, Mary Jane, hay, joint, reefer, stick or by a dozen other names.

As generally used in the United States, marijuana is a mild drug that produces fantasies. Smokers may develop a psychological need for it. But it is not physically habit forming — quitting it doesn't cause any physical withdrawal symptoms.

It is not a narcotic, and neither are other hallucination-producing drugs. Marijuana is under narcotics control for various reasons. But true narcotics usually produce sleep or stupor and relieve pain; they can be addictive or habit forming.

Hemp Plant

Marijuana comes from the female hemp plant, Cannabis sativa. The leaves and flowering tops are dried, sometimes are mixed with tobacco, and rolled into a cigarette.

The effects, felt in a few minutes, usually last three to five hours, but may go on for 12. Reefers can vary widely in potency, depending on their content of the active plant ingredients.

Typically, most smokers have a feeling of great well-being, of feeling high, like having had a few alcoholic drinks. They may become talkative and hilarious, or fall into a dreamy state. Their ideas flow rapidly, sometimes in disconnected fashion.

They fantasize, and sometimes have a deeper appreciation of works of art or music. Time stretches out. Distance and sounds are magnified.

Other smokers may feel irritable and confused, or become fearful.

LSD

LSD is so potent that a dose no larger than the point of a pin is enough to send most people off on amazing "trips" within their own minds. LSD stands for lysergic acid diethylamide, and is often simply called acid, trips, cubes, pearls or heavenly blue.

It's supplied, quite illegally, as a powder in capsules, small white pills, or a colorless, tasteless liquid that can be soaked into sugar cubes or crackers.

A trip usually begins 30 to 45 minutes after the drug is swallowed, and lasts eight to 12 hours. How a person reacts depends on the dose, the person himself, his mood, and the setting.

Most users report seeing brilliant colors, starbursts, and distortion of geometric objects. Senses may blend so colors appear to be tasted, or take the barbiturates to reduce the jitters that pep pills cause. When combined with alcohol, the kick from barbiturates can be fatal.

Some abusers use barbiturates combined with pep pills for a see-saw effect, or take the barbiturates to reduce the jitters that pep pills cause.

Numerous people become physically and psychologically dependent upon barbiturates — there are many types — for sleep, or to combat anxiety or tensions. When tolerance builds up, the drugs stimulate rather than depress.

Some abusers use barbiturates combined with pep pills for a see-saw effect, or take the barbiturates to reduce the jitters that pep pills cause.

The user can "go on the nod" becoming sleepy, and "safe from problems and challenges. This effect, depending on dose and potency, usually lasts only three to four hours. Then the habitual user must seek more drug.

Narcotics can become his way of life, and a costly one, often supported by crime. Most authorities say the narcotics addict steals, burgles or engages in prostitution to get money, rather than committing violent crimes.

Amphetamines, Stimulants

There's a big black market in amphetamines and other stimulant drugs — commonly called pep pills, wake-ups, bennies, dexties, copilots, footbills. Medically, amphetamines are used to combat appetite, to relieve mild depression, and for other purposes. Truck drivers may take them to stay awake on long hauls, or students to stay up late studying for exams.

Oversize and abuse induce a sense of good feeling, excitement, boundless energy, a sense that feeling tired has gone out of style.

Amphetamines do not cause physical dependence. Quitting produces effects like those from LSD when taken in larger doses. Effects last an hour or two.

STP (also known as DOM), a synthetic chemical related to mescaline and amphetamines, is reported to be extremely mind-distorting but less so than LSD.

MORNING GLORY SEEDS of a few varieties contain an active principle closely related to LSD, but far less potent.

Barbiturates, Depressants

To drug abusers, barbiturates are known by many nicknames — goobers, bars, candy, yellow jackets, seccy, rainbows, blue devils, and the like.

Numerous people become physically and psychologically dependent upon barbiturates — there are many types — for sleep, or to combat anxiety or tensions. When tolerance builds up, the drugs stimulate rather than depress.

Heroin, closely related to morphine, has no medical uses, but at least 60,000 Americans are addicted to it. They use heroin — the big H, horse, junk — to induce a sense of good feeling, to reduce feelings of fear, anxiety and tension.

The user can "go on the nod" becoming sleepy, and "safe from problems and challenges. This effect, depending on dose and potency, usually lasts only three to four hours. Then the habitual user must seek more drug.

Narcotics can become his way of life, and a costly one, often supported by crime. Most authorities say the narcotics addict steals, burgles or engages in prostitution to get money, rather than committing violent crimes.

These narcotics produce both physical and psychological dependence. The pregnant women who continue using heroin or allied drugs may have newborn babies who show all the troubles of narcotics withdrawal. Such babies may die unless treated immediately with antitoxins.

Heroin users usually become truly "hooked" after taking the drug daily for a week or so.

Some youngsters seeking kicks abuse cough syrups containing codeine, an opium derivative, or medicines containing paregoric, containing a dilute amount of opium.

Glue Sniffing
Sniffing airplane glue, or gasoline, and vapors from other products is a persistent and dangerous, if low-level, fad among the very young and some teenagers.

Solvents in the vapors can act as poisons, resulting in permanent damage to the nervous system and liver, and big enough doses can be fatal. Youngsters sniffing the vapors become dizzy, and can think the experience is "fun."

Dorothy Hayden gives today's hand the heading, "Barefoot in London." The reason is that there are supposed to be thousands of London citizens without shoes because they played trumps too soon. There are just as many barefoot in New York because they didn't pull trumps. The way to prosper is to pull trumps as soon as you can do so safely.

South wins the first trick with dummy's ace of diamonds. A finesse would be pointless indeed. Then if he is one of those automatic trump leaders, he plays two high trumps. From this point on he is doomed to wind up losing three clubs and the queen of trumps unless the defense slips.

He will complain about bad luck after the black suits break poorly and neither red suit finesse, but he should make his contract in spite of the bad breaks.

If he would just bear in mind the H (How can I make my contract?) from the Jacoby key word "ARCH," he would come sailing home with game and rubber.

South should see the possibility of losing a trump and three clubs and a sure way to guard against it. At trick two he should play the ace of clubs and continue with a second club at trick three. Another club lead the next time he got in would make it possible for him to ruff his last club with dummy's 10 of trumps.

It wouldn't worry him if the 10 of trumps were overruled. He would still be sure of his contract. Of course this line of play might cost an overtrick but who worries about an overtrick when game and rubber are involved?

The doctor said you were right — that most transvestites are not homosexuals. They enjoy dressing in female attire but have no desire to engage in homosexual activity. Some homosexuals are, however, transvestites, which is what

Wife Leaves Home So He Can Be She

Dear Ann: This is for the woman whose husband loves to put on her wig and high heels and false eyelashes "for fun." So she thinks he is normal, does she? Well, I had a son-in-law who thought the same thing. Furthermore, he convinced my daughter that it was a harmless little game they were playing. She went along with it and even gave him girly gifts for his birthday.

Knowing full well that I can't curb my desires, my wife now leaves the house one evening a week while I play lady. I prefer to be alone and unobserved and she respects my wishes. I always make sure the children are asleep. I draw the draperies and do not answer the doorbell.

Since I've been able to carry out my little charade with my wife's knowledge and approval I feel 100 per cent better. My nerves are settled and I'm off tranquilizers. Thank you for being broad-minded.—ANN'S FAN

Dear Fan: Lest you leave a wrong impression, I'd like to repeat my original statement. Transvestites are not necessarily homosexuals, but normal they ain't.

If your wife understands your problem and accepts it, it's nobody else's business — provided, of course, you stay in the house and off the front lawn.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

LSD

LSD is so potent that a dose no larger than the point of a pin is enough to send most people off on amazing "trips" within their own minds. LSD stands for lysergic acid diethylamide, and is often simply called acid, trips, cubes, pearls or heavenly blue.

It's supplied, quite illegally, as a powder in capsules, small white pills, or a colorless, and tasteless liquid that can be soaked into sugar cubes or crackers.

A trip usually begins 30 to 45 minutes after the drug is swallowed, and lasts eight to 12 hours. How a person reacts depends on the dose, the person himself, his mood, and the setting.

Most users report seeing brilliant colors, starbursts, and distortion of geometric objects.

Senses may blend so colors appear to be tasted. Sensitivity to sound increases. Objects may pulsate. Something as familiar as a teacup can appear to be an object of fantastic beauty and wonder. Feelings of creativity are enhanced.

Time may slow, then race ahead, or even seem to go backward.

On bad trips, users may feel cut off, alone, anxious, panicky. Some land in hospitals for treatment of mental disturbances, and a few have killed or injured themselves.

No physical dependence develops, but psychological dependence may.

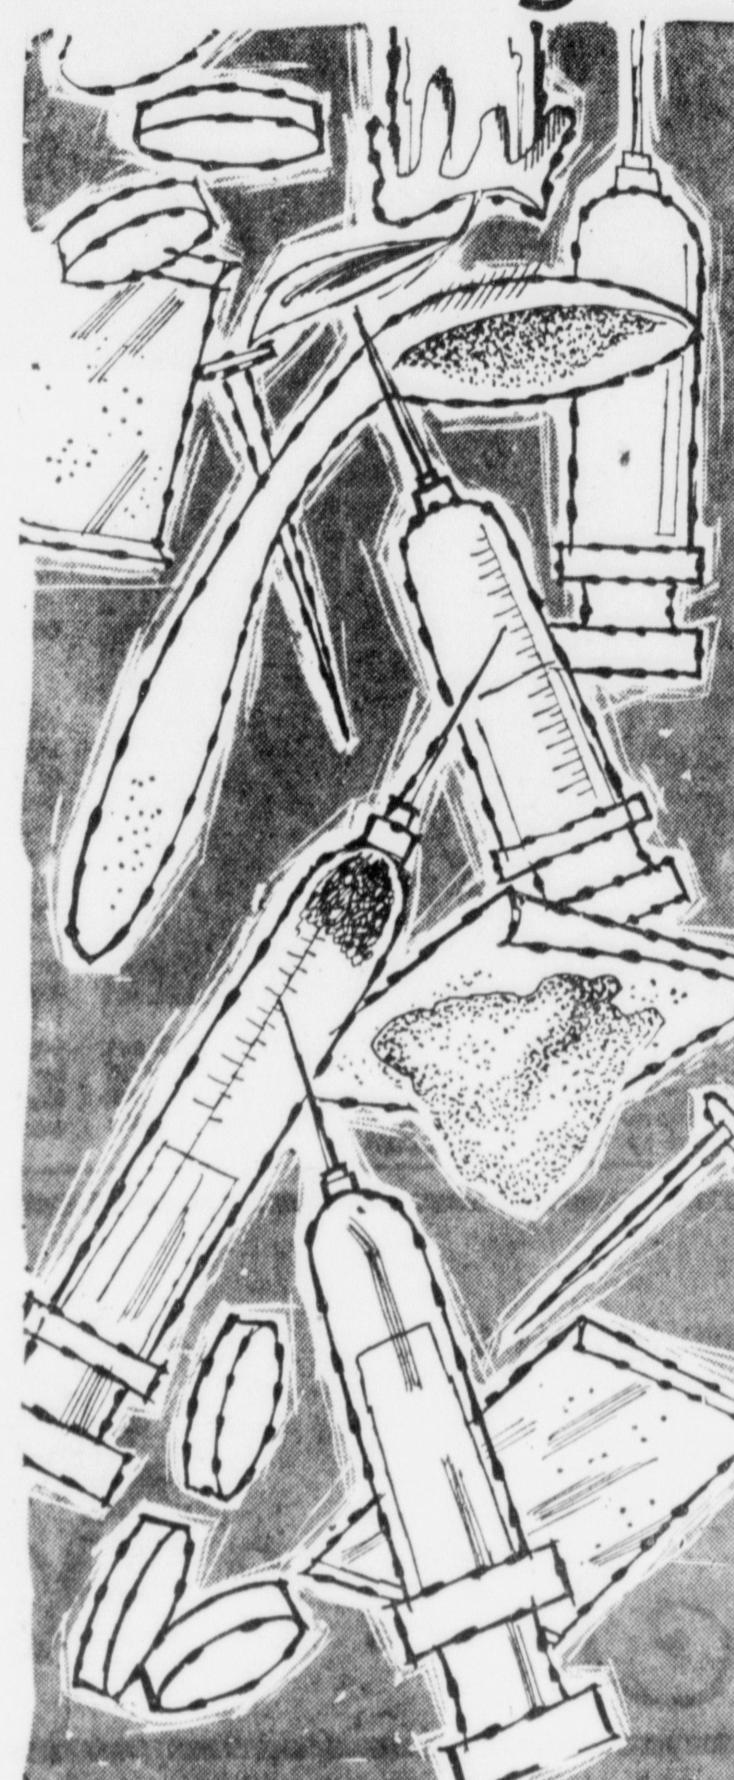

Hallucination Drugs

MESCALINE: From the buttons of a small cactus plant — peyote or mescal. It is also supplied illegally as a powder or liquid. Far milder than LSD, its effects last 10 to 12 hours.

PEYOTE itself, a less concentrated form of mescaline, therefore milder.

PSILOCYBIN from a Mexican mushroom, supplied in crystal, powder, or liquid form. Its effects last two to six hours generally, and are similar to those from mescaline.

DMT (dimethyltryptamine)

produces effects like those from LSD when taken in larger doses. Effects last an hour or two.

STP (also known as DOM), a synthetic chemical related to mescaline and amphetamines, is reported to be extremely mind-distorting but less so than LSD.

MORNING GLORY SEEDS of a few varieties contain an active principle closely related to LSD, but far less potent.

Barbiturates. Depressants

To drug abusers, barbiturates are known by many nicknames — goofballs, bars, candy, yellow jackets, seccy, rainbows, black devils, and the like.

Numerous people become physically and psychologically dependent upon barbiturates — there are many types — for sleep, or to combat anxiety or tensions. When tolerance builds up, the drugs stimulate rather than depress.

Some abusers use barbiturates combined with pep pills for a see-saw effect, or take the barbiturates to reduce the jitters that pep pills cause. When combined with alcohol, the kick from barbiturates can be fatal.

Prolonged use of barbiturates can lead to impaired judgment and intellectual performance, to bizarre behavior, slurred speech, tremor, self-neglect. Abrupt withdrawal in a dependent user may lead to nausea, fever, hallucinations, convulsions, coma, and even death.

Narcotics can become his way of life, and a costly one, often supported by crime. Most authorities say the narcotics addict steals, burgles or engages in prostitution to get money, rather than committing violent crimes.

These narcotics produce both both physical and psychological dependence. The pregnant women who continue using heroin or allied drugs may have newborn babies who show all the troubles of narcotics withdrawal. Such babies may die unless treated immediately with antidotes.

Heroin users usually become truly "hooked" after taking the drug daily for a week or so.

Some youngsters seeking kicks abuse cough syrups containing codeine, an opium derivative, or medicines containing paregoric, containing a dilute amount of opium.

Glue Sniffing

Sniffing airplane glue, or gasoline, and vapors from other products is a persistent and dangerous, if low-level, fad among the very young and some teen-agers.

Solvents in the vapors result in permanent damage to the nervous system and liver, and big enough doses can be fatal.

Youngsters sniffing the vapors become dizzy, and can think the experience is "fun."

Dorothy Hayden gives today's hand the heading, "Barefoot in London." The reason is that there are supposed to be thousands of London citizens without shoes because they played trumps too soon. There are just as many barefoot in New York because they didn't pull trumps. The way to prosper is to pull trumps as soon as you can do so safely.

South wins the first trick with dummy's ace of diamonds. A finesse would be pointless indeed. Then if he is one of those automatic trump leaders, he plays two high trumps.

From this point on he is doomed to wind up losing three clubs and the queen of trumps unless the defense slips.

He will complain about bad luck after the black suits break poorly and neither red suit finesse, but he should make his contract in spite of the bad breaks.

If he would just bear in mind the H (How can I make my contract?) from the Jacoby key word "ARCH," he would come sailing home with game and rubber.

Shorty before you printed the letter signed "Bobette's Wife," my wife discovered my private cache of ladies' wear. She became hysterical, accused me of being a homosexual, and made an appointment to see a lawyer about a divorce.

After you read my column she canceled her appointment with the lawyer and made an appointment with a doctor. She took your column along.

The doctor said you were right — that most transvestites are not homosexuals. They enjoy dressing in female attire but have no desire to engage in homosexual activity. Some homosexuals are, however, transvestites, which is what he would make it possible for him to ruff his last club with dummy's 10 of trumps.

It wouldn't worry him if the 10 of trumps were overruled.

He would still be sure of his contract. Of course this line of play might cost an overtrick but who worries about an overtrick when game and rubber are involved?

It wouldn't worry him if the 10 of trumps were overruled.

Biologists Favor Easing Law On 'Snagged' Salmon

DETROIT (AP) — State fishery biologists will press for relaxed angling rules on "snagged" salmon this fall.

The move, if adopted, will allow fishermen to keep accidentally snagged fish. Under present law, all fish not hooked in the mouth must be returned to the water.

"This was our major law enforcement problem last year," said Dr. Wayne Tody, chief of the Department of Natural Resources' fish division. "When salmon and anglers jammed together, it naturally produced snagged fish."

The bad feelings between fishermen and the department began when 107 arrests were made last August and September by Conservation Officers at the mouth of Thompson Creek, near Manistique in the Upper Peninsula.

Accidental

"I don't think people were purposely trying to foul-hook fish," Tody said, "but they did. And they had mixed feelings about returning these beautiful salmon they hadn't tried to catch incorrectly. They felt entitled to them."

The problem worsened by late September when Lower Peninsula runs began and more anglers flocked to small streams where spawning salmon were packed. The resulting bonnybrook at Bear Creek — actual fist-fights between anglers and Conservation Officers, State Police and local sheriff's patrols — brought about closure.

"It left the public with a hostile attitude toward the department," Tody said. Tight enforcement clamped down, leaving a grumble of discontent rumbling over the whole salmon program. Poor fishing luck on Lake Michigan only served to heighten the feelings.

Preferred To Wiers

The DNR plans to ease that situation this year, though.

"We recognize that salmon are unlike other fish we're used to here," Tody explained. "They run streams in big numbers and all will die. The problem is how to keep a 'sport' fishery and still allow the biggest catch possible, rather than having all salmon harvested at weirs."

It's the biologists' feeling that if people will fish with rods and reels, using artificial lures or natural bait in the conventional manner, they should be allowed to keep what they catch. "No matter where it's hooked," Tody said.

"This is accidental snagging. I don't think we should encourage snagging per se, though, so we're going to define what fishing practices aren't acceptable at the same time."

Among these will be specially contrived snag hooks, large grunting hooks or lures with weights trailing the hook, gags or hooks attached to rigid poles and the like.

Hook Size

Tody also feels the present hook size limit should be relaxed about closure.

Ferris Board Backs Spathelf

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — The eight-member Board of Control of Ferris State College unanimously commended President Victor F. Spathelf for his actions during the last two weeks of campus disruptions.

It also deferred action Saturday on legal prosecution of black students who took over a campus building last Monday and were removed by State Police.

NAACP Chairman Albert Wheeler said in Ann Arbor that Spathelf's conduct was unsatisfactory and charged he refused to meet with Negro parents who had gathered on the campus.

Lawrence W. Prakken of Ann Arbor, chairman, said the board heard and applauded a report from Spathelf Saturday on the college's efforts to foster more black students and faculty.

Tuberculin testing of dairy herds was introduced in 1890.

fore the Natural Resources Commission in April or May, with final action perhaps coming in July.

"That will give people a couple months to look at our suggestions and comment on them," Tody said. "We won't be unbending, either. If other good opinions come to light, we may use them, too."

He doesn't even rule out the prospect of a specific snagging fishery, should the need arise.

"I'd call it an 'unlimited' fishery, then," he explained. "But I wouldn't call it sport fishing."

Temporary Wier

An example of this might come if some stream where large numbers of mature salmon are returning and a department harvest wier is not installed to take the excess. The Muskegon River, for instance, will host thousands of chinook salmon this fall, but no wier has been installed as yet below Croton Dam.

"If we couldn't take them commercially, we would rather the people take them any way they could instead of facing a wholesale dieoff," Tody said. Any method could be used, including dip nets, gaffs, snagging, spears, or by hand, if need be.

"We certainly intend to have a temporary wier in there, though," he said.

"But if we allowed such a fishery it would be carefully confined. We wouldn't want the idea of snagging spreading to the general fishery state-wide."

Second To Empire State Building

Chicago Set To Open John Hancock Center

CHICAGO (AP) — The John Hancock Center, 100 stories of tapered steel, glass and concrete packed into the earth's second largest building, will open within a month.

Every facility in the monumental, $85 million, 1,107-foot structure located on Michigan Avenue's "Magnificent Mile" in downtown Chicago is aimed at filling voids often overlooked for residents and workers, the builders say.

Residents are expected to begin moving into "Big John" about April 1.

Chicagoans who have come to accept steel and glass high-rise living with gusto are quickly leasing the 705 available apartments. They often have rented from a blueprint, choosing from efficiencies at $189 a month to four-bedroom luxury apartments at $750 per month.

48 Hours

Utilizing 48 floors of the tapered building, tenants can pick their own view of Chicago from the world's tallest all-electric structure.

Here is how the second tallest building in the world—second only to the Empire State Building in New York City—is laid out:

Floors 1 through 5—Department store, bank, lobby, Bonwit Teller, men's and women's fashions, firm, has leased parts of the 1st and 2nd floors and all of the 3rd, 4th and 5th floors in a 30-year agreement with a rental fee of $20 million.

Floors 6 through 12—Garages accommodating more than 1,200 cars.

Residents can park their cars on six floors by driving up a spiral driveway.

Floors 13 through 41—Businesses and firms.

Floors 42-43—Equipment for operating the building.

Observatory

Floor 44—Tenants are whisked by elevator to the 44th floor, a two-level sky lobby where security officers protect residents from uninformed guests.

The huge, high-ceiling lobby high-in-the-sky has shops, restaurants, a swimming pool, a sauna bath, health club and lounge.

Floors 45 through 92—Apartments.

Floor 93—Leased by the National Broadcasting Co.

Floor 94—Observatory.

Floors 95-96—Restaurant and lounge.

Floor 97—Leased by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Floors 98 through 100—Equipment for operating the building.

Businessmen already have leased more than one-half the available space allocated for that purpose on 28 floors.

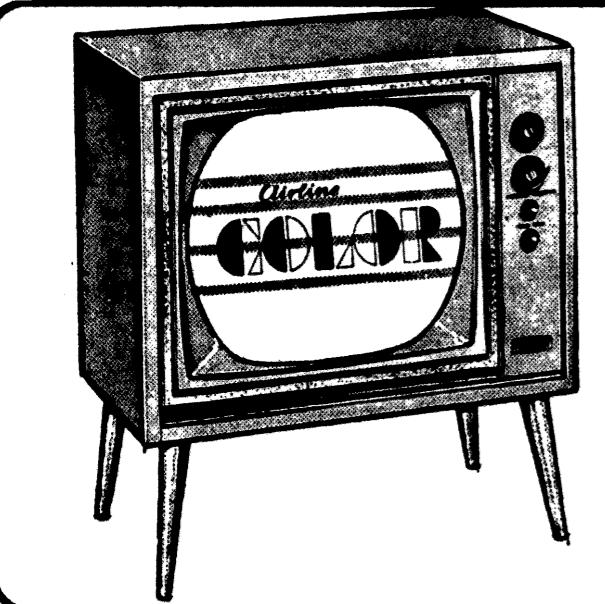

Residents can park their cars on six floors by driving up a spiral driveway.

The Hancock Center is 1,107 feet from the street to the 100th floor. The Empire State Building is 1,250 from the street to its 102nd floor.

The building is expected to be dedicated in mid-October, the month when all residents are expected to be housed.

ed, too, to a half-inch between the point and shank. "For treble hooks, anyway," he said. "Many people felt that a three-eighths hook was too small last year, and I agreed with them. A half-inch limit shouldn't get us into overt snagging."

All recommendations for new salmon rules will be aired before the Natural Resources Commission in April or May, with final action perhaps coming in July.

"That will give people a couple months to look at our suggestions and comment on them," Tody said. "We won't be unbending, either. If other good opinions come to light, we may use them, too."

MHS Dramatics Club Rehearses For Festival

Rehearsals for a contemporary passion play and six one-act plays for the annual Spring Festival of Drama are occupying members of the MHS Dramatics Club these days.

"In His Steps" by Richard Marsh of Gulliver will be enacted March 16, at 3:30 p.m., at the First United Methodist Church. The passion play will feature music by the newly-formed Folk Music Group.

Included will be "Lonesome Valley" and "Were You There?" both arranged by Carol Marsh; "We Walk Eternally" with words by John Doane and adapted by the author with music by Carol Marsh, and "I will Follow Him" with words by Marsh and music by Carol Marsh.

On April 17 at 7:30 p.m. the Dramatics Club will present six one-act plays in the high school auditorium.

The six plays being readied for the Spring Festival of Drama are all student-directed with an assist from advisor Mrs. Earl LeBrusser and Jeffrey Murdock.

Arlene Jetty and Mary Uerling are directing "Crazy Violet," Dena Patterson and Susan Hanson are directing "The Man in the Bowler Hat"; Patty Johnson and Bonnie Hentschel are responsible for "The Shock of His Life"; Julie Gerber and Niki Johnson, "No Time For Skirts;" Cindy Frenette and Donna Johnson, "Early Worm;" and Linda Selling and Diane Martin are preparing "A Date For Baby Sox."

The Michigan State University Performing Arts Company will present their production of "Pinocchio" in Manistique on March 22.

The play will be presented at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium and the school plans to involve as many elementary students as possible.

On May 8, a special program will be presented by the University of Michigan entitled "Magic of the Stage."

In preparation for this presentation, under the University's Professional Theatre program, supplemental materials for high school English and literature classes have been ordered. The program will be seen from 12:45 to 2:10 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

150 Drivers Enter Snowmobile Derby

About 150 snowmachine operators entered the first Indian Lake Snowmobile Derby Sunday sponsored by the Emerald City Motor Club. All events were held at the Indian Lake State Park.

Trophies were awarded in the women's Powder Puff and Junior divisions with $500 divided among the men's five classes.

Entrants were recorded from many neighboring communities including Marquette, Gwinn and Newberry. One group of 15 snowmobilers made the trip from Marquette to Manistique by snowmobile on Saturday.

In the men's unlimited division, with a $100 purse divided $50 for first place, $30 for second and $20 for third, first place went to Lynn Watson of Curtis; second place to Harry McGahan of Germfask; and third place to Harry Burton of Germfask.

First place in the women's Powder Puff went to Carolyn Burton of Germfask. Second place trophy was presented Patty Knauf of Newberry driving a machine owned by Ray Newberry.

Pete Widdis was official scorer for the Derby with the task of judging allocated to Emerald City Motor Club members.

In the Junior Division trophies went to Jim Johnson of Manistique, first place, driving a machine owned by Dewey M. Osmor of Manistique. Second place went to Guy Hubble, Manistique, with the machine owned by John Klarich of Manistique.

Astronaut's Wife Files For Divorce

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Donn F. Eisele, wife of the astronaut who flew on Apollo 7, has filed suit for divorce, charging mental cruelty.

Eisele, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, spent 10 days in earth orbit on the flight in October.

The suit filed in domestic relations court Monday said the couple had been estranged since Jan. 4. They were married in December 1958, and have three children.

Pontiac Board Agrees To Meet

PONTIAC (AP) — School district officials agreed Monday to meet with Negro students and parents after a group of between 150 and 175 Negroes staged a three-hour sit-in at Pontiac Central High School, listing 10 grievances.

The demonstrators blocked a first-floor hallway between the gymnasium and the main office most of the morning while the remainder of the school's 2,100 students stayed in their home rooms. About 40 per cent of the student body is black.

The demonstration was the latest in a series by blacks who are protesting the school board's decision to build a new high school on the predominantly white West Side rather than near a Negro section on the East Side.

DETROIT (AP) — Statehood by 1980 is Puerto Rico's goal, when it was one year old last November, elected Ferre with 45 per cent of the popular vote. Although Puerto Ricans rejected statehood in a referendum the same year, Ferre regards his election as a new measure for the support of statehood, which he has advocated for a long time.

The island will be ready to assume the "financial responsibility" of statehood by 1980, Ferre said, adding he meant the commonwealth will have taken strides to increase the low per capita income of $1,200 a year by then. Mississippis now is the state with the lowest average income — $1,700.

Ferre cited "healthy relations among races and between management and labor" as attractions for industry. He said a social transition is taking place "without violence, without revolution."

Mayors Want More Than Lip Service To Home Rule

LANSING (AP) — "Give us more power," the mayors of several Michigan cities pleaded Monday as they testified before the new House Urban Affairs Committee.

"A great deal of lip service is given to the idea of home rule," Saginaw Mayor Henry Marsh told the committee. "If we are going to mean what we say, you've got to give (the power) to us."

"Give us more responsibility in terms of our own governments," he said.

"We feel we know more about the problems of our communities than someone here in Lansing," added Jackson Mayor Maurice Townsend Jr.

Townsend also lambasted some "hippie-types," saying, "perhaps we need more in the way of basic education in government. 'The problem,' he added, 'is trying to instill in these youngsters respect for the system."

Dissent

"Have we taken the time to understand why there is disrepect?" asked Rep. David Holmes, D-Detroit, a committee member. "Representative government is not there and these kids see this."

Marsh, Townsend and Mayors Paul Schrier of Kalamazoo, Donald Cronin of Flint and Max Murningham of Lansing were the first to testify in a series of hearings before the new committee, which chairman Edward Suski, D-Flint, says "will really move" toward ways of helping cities overcome their problems.

Scheduled to be heard next Monday are the mayors of Detroit, Ann Arbor, Pontiac, Alpena and Benton Harbor. Mayors to testify March 24 are those from Grand Rapids, Marquette, Muskegon, Sault Ste. Marie and Traverse City.

Problems most often cited by the mayors testifying Monday involved the compulsory arbitration for public employees, highways and financing.

Compulsory Arbitration
Marsh called for a strengthening of the collective bargaining law for public employees, saying any proposition to provide for compulsory arbitration "is going to hurt employees as much as employers."

In arbitration situations, he cited an arbitrator's interest in the legitimate demands of the parties and the ability of the city to pay. "He could care less about the civic center or streets," Marsh said, adding that he felt it should be up to local authorities to decide how much money should be allocated for what.

An arbitrator, Marsh said, "takes over my role" in determining how much money should be used for employee pay. "He has the responsibility... I have the accountability."

Highway Funds
Cronin called for a renegotiation of highway contracts, saying the city of Flint would not be able to come up with its share of construction funds under present terms.

Construction has been held up because the Vietnam War caused a shortage of federal highway funds, Cronin said. Since the costs of construction also have gone up, the highways now will cost more than had previously been anticipated.

Flint authorities met with State Highway Director Henrik Stafseth to discuss the problem, he told the committee, but were refused a hearing with the State Highway Commission.

Housing in Flint is "critical," Cronin said because of highway displacement.

The commission, he explained, allows $50 per family to move from the highway right-of-way, and that is not enough. Cronin added that the prices paid by the state for homes to be torn down are not unfair, but unrealistic.

Use Own Engineers
Some such families—especially older persons—are therefore forced into public housing, he said, because they can't afford to replace what they had.

Cronin called also for the State Highway Department to allow cities with their own traffic engineers take the responsibility to traffic planning on state trunklines within their boundaries.

"We don't feel they should have the complete responsibility," he said.

Townsend cited the financial plight of his city, pointing out that Flint electors will next month vote for the third time on a city income tax proposal.

"Every time the Legislature exempts someone from the property tax, it creates serious problems for the local community," Townsend said.

Block Grants
The Jackson mayor termed "meaningless" a controversial antiriot bill passed last week by the State Senate. It would give local authorities the power to declare states of emergency in times of "imminent" riot, when the governor is outside the state.

Shrier told the committee that urban areas are "beset with a multiplicity of problems so serious in nature that they jeopardize the very existence of our cities."

Murningham followed a similar line, saying the city would hope for block grants.

"We feel that state and local governments would within this framework make their own plans, using the kind of local planning necessary to control the destinies of the local community at the local level," he said.

"We need to have an operational and working state housing authority," Murningham said.

"Many of our low-income housing problems must be met with a metropolitan approach. We are running into all kinds of problems when we as municipalities attempt to solve low-income housing problems, of a metropolitan nature, when we are limited to a municipal approach."

Highway Funds
Cronin called for a renegotiation of highway contracts, saying the city of Flint would not be able to come up with its share of construction funds under present terms.

Construction has been held up

Podunk Center Is Up For Sale

PODUNK CENTER, Iowa (AP) — The whole town of Podunk Center is for sale for a grand total of $7,000.

The butt of thousands of jokes, the town consists of one acre in south central Iowa, and has gas station, grocery store and cafe—all under one roof—and a four-unit motel.

The town isn't on any road maps, is too small for the postal guide and doesn't have a zip code number, but its mayor, city manager and owner, Homer Weeks, advertises it as "the hub of the world."

Weeks, 41, says he must sell the town because burns he received last August had forced him to close it down.

The town's population reached its peak of 21 in the 1930s when four families lived there.

Predicts Failure Of Parochial Aid

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — State Sen. Robert Vander Laan of Grand Rapids predicted Monday that the Legislature would not approve any form of state aid to nonpublic schools.

He said constitutional questions surrounding parochial remain the major stumbling block, along with greater needs for more aid for the state's public schools.

"Our main duty is to see to it that the best possible public schools are maintained," Vander Laan said. "This takes money and this year we are rather short."

He added, "I honestly don't think the chances are good" for passage of a parochial bill.

Vander Laan made the comments during a meeting of the Kent County Board of supervisors legislative committee.

because the Vietnam War has caused a shortage of federal highway funds, Cronin said. Since the costs of construction have gone up, the highways now will cost more than had previously been anticipated.

Flint authorities met with State Highway Director Henrik Stafseth to discuss the problem, he told the committee, but were refused a hearing with the State Highway Commission.

Housing in Flint is "critical," Cronin said because of highway displacement.

The commission, he explained, allows $50 per family to move them from the highway right-of-way, and that is not enough. Cronin added that the prices paid by the state for homes to be torn down are not unfair, but unrealistic.

Use Own Engineers
Some such families—especially older persons—are therefore forced into public housing, he said, because they can't afford to replace what they had.

Cronin called also for the State Highway Department to allow cities with their own traffic engineers take the responsibility to traffic planning on state trunklines within their boundaries.

"We don't feel they should have the complete responsibility," he said.

Townsend cited the financial plight of his city, pointing out that Flint electors will next month vote for the third time on a city income tax proposal.

"Every time the Legislature exempts someone from the property tax, it creates serious problems for the local community," Townsend said.

Block Grants
The Jackson mayor termed "meaningless" a controversial antiriot bill passed last week by the State Senate. It would give local authorities the power to declare states of emergency in times of "imminent" riot, when the governor is outside the state.

Shrier told the committee that urban areas are "beset with a multiplicity of problems so serious in nature that they jeopardize the very existence of our cities."

Murningham followed a similar line, saying the city would hope for block grants.

"We feel that state and local governments would within this framework make their own plans, using the kind of local planning necessary to control the destinies of the local community at the local level," he said.

"We need to have an operational and working state housing authority," Murningham said.

"Many of our low-income housing problems must be met with a metropolitan approach. We are running into all kinds of problems when we as municipalities attempt to solve low-income housing problems, of a metropolitan nature, when we are limited to a municipal approach."

NEW YORK (AP) — The scene backstage at the annual hairstyle show here was just a little bit confusing.

The models, as usual, were busy with final touches—a bit of spray here, a bit of teasing there.

There was only one catch. Half the models were men.

Hairdos, Costumes

Once men began letting their locks grow long, it was only a matter of time before they began getting coiffures—instead of cuts—from stylists—instead of barbers.

And time ran out Monday.

Hairdressers from around the country joined in presenting a "unisex" show—matching his and her hairdos and costumes.

Women worried about being eclipsed by their peacock-like mates can take some consolation from the fact that most of the hairdressers admitted they designed the girl's coiffure first, then tried to adapt it for the male model.

There were three basic silhouettes for women this spring:

Face Curls

The "Coco Chanel" reminiscent of the 1930's, featuring soft, full curls around the face, medium length hair and a smooth crown. Variations included center parts, a wave over one eye or all-over curls.

The chignon, shown for both day and evening, with the bun low on the back of the head. For evening, it was dressed up with tendril curls around the face or narrow, false braids attached to the bun.

Loose Look

The long, loose look with hair cascading to the shoulders and below. This style frequently was made more bouffant with the addition of a fall.

Among the matching styles:

The "page boy" with hair cut to just below the ears and turned under loosely. The male and female model each displayed this look wearing bangs almost to the eyes.

The "curly head" with curls scattered all over the scalp. The girl's style featured soft, ringlet-like curls. The boy's had tighter curls, styled with a curling iron.

The "French bowl" look with the hair brought forward over the forehead almost to the eyes. The female model looked like Sir Galahad; the male like a shaggy dog.

The matched hairstyles did provide some problems.

"I couldn't get his hair long enough," said one hairdresser despairingly, as she tugged at the page boy coiffure of a young man.

Meeting Family Crisis:

Social Security Aids Survivors

A recent death in Escanaba has pointed up the importance of social security protection for survivors, according to Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba.

Alfred J. Arvey, a veteran of 23 years employment with Escanaba's Mead Corp., died at work on Feb. 16, leaving a widow at home, a 19 year old son in school and a married daughter.

Because social security contributions were deducted from Mr. Arvey's pay as a paper coating technician, survivor benefits are payable. His son, Jon, a student at Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, will be eligible for monthly payments until age 22, provided he remains a full time, unmarried student until that age. Student payments have been in effect since the 1965 Social Security Amendments.

Mrs. Arvey is eligible for a lump sum death benefit now, and monthly benefits later when she reaches retirement age, or earlier if she becomes severely disabled, due to recent changes providing for disabled widows' payments at age 50.

Had there been children under age 18 at home, Mrs. Arvey would be eligible for monthly benefits now, regardless of age.

The Arvey family is symbolic of the three million young widows and children nationwide who are eligible for social security benefits, a figure just reached in February. In Delta County, approximately 1,000 widows and children receive benefits amounting to about $75,000 a month.

Social security records are confidential, but Mrs. Arvey consented to the release of information about her claim to better acquaint area residents with some of the newer social security regulations.

Dunes' Proposal Affects Salmon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Guy Vander Jagt, R-Mich., said Monday the state's Coho salmon program would be dealt a severe blow if the proposed Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore legislation is approved.

The current legislation, proposed by Reps. Lucien Nedzi and James G. O'Hara, both Democrats, would include 280 acres of land under development by the state department of natural resources.

Vander Jagt said if the 280 acres is included, it would place a key salmon migration control weir, a marina and also a refuge harbor under federal instead of state control.

Unless changes are made in the proposal, Vander Jagt said he would not support the lake-shore legislation.

Pothole Filler

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay wielded a shovel and rake Monday for the official launching of a spring drive to fill in an estimated 98,000 potholes left in city streets by winter weather.

Priest Guilty Of Illegal March

PONTIAC (AP) — An Episcopal priest who participated in a march in Royal Oak shortly after the assassination of civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. last year has been found guilty of violating a governor's order against such marches.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William R. Beasley said Monday he would sentence the Rev. James Markunas, 31, next month. The charge, which is a misdemeanor, carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail.

Over 100 marchers were arrested during the demonstration on Palm Sunday last April 7, but the rest of the cases have been held up pending a decision in the Markunas case.

The Rev. Mr. Markunas' attorney, James Lafferty, said he would appeal the decision.

Watch out for the Gladstone Braves in the Class B Regional basketball tournament at Northern Michigan University this week — it seems to be their year. Since 1931, the Braves have been U. P. champs every 19 years and this year is the 19th year again. Gladstone won the U. P. Class C title first in 1931 and again in 1950.

Tom Villemure, a 1957 graduate of Newberry High School, is a candidate for the head coaching job recently vacated by Bob Callahan at the University of Detroit. Villemure enrolled in Soo Tech, now Lake Superior State College, after graduation from high school in 1957. While playing at Soo he set two records that still stand, a two-year point scoring mark of 1,217 points and the record for a single season with 661 points. In 1959, Villemure transferred to the University of Detroit where he played two more years as a teammate of Dave DeBusschere, now a member of the New York Knicks.

Mike Olsen, formerly of Escanaba, is a junior at Michigan State where he played this season on the Spartan hockey team and played the rugged position of a penalty killer. A penalty killer is a player on the ice when the team is one man short due to a penalty. Michigan State hockey coach Amo Bessone refers to Olsen as the hardest worker on the team.

Brian Ouimette from Iron Mountain and Larry Ruffatto Marquette were honored by their teammates as honorary captains of the 1968-69 freshman basketball squad. Ouimette led the fresh in scoring and rebounding, hitting 267 points and grabbing 194 rebounds while Ruffatto was second in both departments, scoring 228 points and hauling in 159 rebounds.

Tim Tischer of DeTour and Dick Salani of Hancock received honorable mention on the 21st Annual Prep All-American Football Team selected by the "Coach and Athlete" magazine in cooperation with Sunkist Growers. Salani was the U. P. Back of the Year in 1968.

Sophomore forward Gerry Gerard of L'Anse has been named winner of Northern Michigan University's Thoroughbred Award for the 1968-69 basketball season. The award is made annually to the player, other than a starter, whose performance exceeds expectations during the season.

Ted Rose, Northern Michigan's 6 foot 6 inch junior forward has been named the most valuable player for the second straight year and is captain-elect for the 1969-70 season. Rose is only the second player in Northern history to be MVP two years in a row. The other was All-American Gene Summers, the player Rose surpassed this season in the all-time career scoring list. Rose holds the all-time Wildcat high of 1,421 points.

The Rapid River Junior Varsity posted a 16-2 overall record and an 11-1 conference record to win the title in the Central league this season. The Rocket JV's set a school scoring mark of 96 points when it lost to Trenary. The only other loss came at Pickford.

Prep Cagers Begin Regionals Tonight

With memories of cut-down nets still fresh in their heads, the first of 156 Michigan high school district champions get down to regional tournament business tonight.

And serious business it will be, too—one loss and those victory celebrations will seem far off indeed.

For some teams, long strings of wins already are things of the past. Gross Pointe South—winner of 17 straight—got its shock early last week, losing in its second district outing to Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher.

Bishop Gallagher went on to top Harper Woods, Notre Dame, and if it can overcome highly-regarded Warren Fitzger-

Senators Seeking First Victory Under Williams

By The Associated Press

Ted Williams' new club could take a lesson from Ted Williams' old club on finding the quickest route across home plate.

The Washington Senators wasted 11 base runners Monday and bowed to the new Kansas City Royals 4-0, giving Manager Williams an 0-for-4 collar in the exhibition baseball standings.

Meanwhile, the unbeaten Boston Red Sox, for whom Williams slammed 521 home runs, cleared the bases four times with homers in a 7-4 victory over the New York Mets.

In four games, three of them against the Kansas City expansion club, Washington has scored a total of eight runs. And five were tallied with the aid of just one hit in last Thursday's opener against the New York Yankees.

With Frank Howard, the American League's 1968 home run king, a holdout, the Senators' power failure has been acute. Their next home run will be their first. The Red Sox have walloped eight homers in three starts. Monday, Tony Conigliaro's kid brother, Billy, slugged his second in two days and Ken Harrelson, George Scott and pinch hitter Gerry Moses each connected in the eighth inning, breaking open a 3-3 struggle.

Galen Cisco, Steve Jones and Larry Sherry combined to scatter seven hits as the Royals blanked the punchless Senators. Jones, picked up from Washington in the expansion draft, hurled three hitless innings.

Buddy Bradford smacked Dick Radatz' first pitch for a homer in the 12th inning, sending the Chicago White Sox past the Detroit Tigers 6-5, and Frank Fernandez homered as the Yankees trimmed the Atlanta Braves 5-2 for a 3-0 exhibition mark.

Rookie first baseman Bob Robertson drilled a two-run first inning homer and stroked a run-scoring single in the second before leaving the game with a knee injury as the Pittsburgh Pirates downed St. Louis 6-0. Chuck Hartenstein, Barry Houser and Larry Killingsworth blanked the Cardinals on four hits. Robertson twisted his knee sliding in the second inning.

The Houston Astros spotted Los Angeles two first inning runs, then bunched five in the fifth—with Doug Rader's bases-loaded triple the big blow—for a 5-2 verdict over the Dodgers.

Dick Kelley hit one Cleveland batter, walked two more and then threw away a double play ball in the seventh inning, handing the Indians an unearned run and a 5-4 nod over the Padres.

Rookie Ron Stone's two-run single in a three-run fifth inning burst propelled the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and newcomer Ralph Garr drove in three runs in the Atlanta "B" team's 6-1 triumph over the Montreal Expos.

The San Francisco Giants-Chicago Cubs and Oakland Athletics—Seattle Pilots games were rained out.

Bradford Ruins Day For Tigers' Smith

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Monday was Detroit Tiger Manager Mayo Smith's 29th wedding anniversary. But Buddy Bradford of the Chicago White Sox must not have known.

Bradford spoiled the day for the 1968 manager of the year by clouting a 390-foot home run in the bottom of the 12th inning to give Chicago a 6-5 exhibition win over Detroit and even the Tigers' Grapefruit League record at 2-2.

Bradford's blast came on the first pitch of the inning off reliever Dick Radatz, who was making his second exhibition appearance in his comeback bid with the Tigers.

Radatz, the former "Monster Man" with Boston in the early '60s, spent last season at Detroit's Toledo farm club in the International League.

"I thought I threw fair," Radatz said of his two-inning stint. "But I was a little disappointed that I didn't get my breaking ball over the plate more than I did."

Radatz was the fifth Tiger pitcher to work. World Series hero Mickey Lolich made his first exhibition start and gave up a run in the second inning on an error by third baseman Ike Brown, a fly ball and a single by Duane Josephson.

Detroit came back in the third on a double by catcher Hector Valle and a throwing error by catcher Josephson as Ron Woods bunted.

Rookie second baseman Dave Campbell walked in the fourth, stole second and scored on a single by Brown. Mickey Stanley, Detroit's designated pinch hitter, hit a home run in the fifth and Wayne Redmond in the sixth to give Detroit a 4-1 margin. Redmond's homer was his third in the last three games.

Stanley's homer came as he performed in the role of a designated pinch hitter. Under a proposed rule change being tried out this spring, a team is allowed to use a 10th man to hit over 8.4 per game.

Larry Siegfried of Boston continued to lead in free throw accuracy, having hit on 87 percent of his 369 shots from the foul line.

for the pitcher, but requires the pitcher to hit for the pitcher throughout the game.

White Sox hitters jumped on Tiger Rookie George Korince for three runs in the bottom of the sixth to tie the game. Bradford was safe on an error by Dick

Hayes Certain To Top Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — With two weeks to go in the National Basketball Association season, Elvin Hayes, San Diego's sensational rookie, appears certain to reign as scoring king while Wilt Chamberlain is closing in on the rebounding and field goal percentage titles again.

Hayes, with 2,089 points and a 29-point average, through games of last Sunday, was well ahead of Baltimore's Earl Monroe, who jumped from fourth to second place last week with a total of 1,878 points.

Chamberlain, Los Angeles, 7-foot-2 super pivot, held commanding leads in the rebounding race, with a total of 1,544 rebounds, and the field goal accuracy derby with a 57.5 percentage from the floor. Last year, he led the league in both departments.

Boston's Bill Russell, with 1,366 rebounds, and Cincinnati's Jerry Lucas, with a .555 floor mark, were the runners-up after last week's action.

Oscar Robertson of the Royals loomed as the heir-apparent to Chamberlain as the No. 1 playmaker. The Cincinnati backcourt had 703 assists, a 9.8 per-game average. Len Wilkens of Seattle was second with 617 and 8.4 per game.

Larry Siegfried of Boston continued to lead in free throw accuracy, having hit on 87 percent of his 369 shots from the foul line.

Aid at East Detroit tonight, it will be a force to be reckoned with in the tournament.

In other top games tonight, top-rated class B team River Rouge, which downed ninth-ranked Ecorse for the third time in four tries Friday night to escape from its own district, meets Tecumseh.

Detroit Catholic League kingpin, Holy Redeemer, an easy winner three times last week, may find the going a little tougher against Bloomfield Hills Lasher tonight.

Lasher's Knights did everything well last Friday in squeaking past a potent Royal Oak Shrine outfit for the Royal Oak District crown. The Knights were particularly impressive on the boards, with a 67-33 rebound edge over Shrine.

Senators Seeking First Victory Under Williams

By The Associated Press

Ted Williams' new club could take a lesson from Ted Williams' old club on finding the quickest route across home plate.

The Washington Senators wasted 11 base runners Monday and bowed to the new Kansas City Royals 4-0, giving Manager Williams an 0-for-4 career in the exhibition baseball standings.

Meanwhile, the unbeaten Boston Red Sox, for whom Williams slammed 321 home runs, cleared the bases four times with homers in a 7-4 victory over the New York Mets.

In four games, three of them against the Kansas City expansion club, Washington has scored a total of eight runs. And five were tallied with the aid of just one hit in last Thursday's opener against the New York Yankees.

With Frank Howard, the American League's 1968 home run king, a holdout, the Senators' power failure has been acute. Their next home run will be their first. The Red Sox have walloped eight homers in three starts. Monday, Tony Conigliaro's kid brother, Billy, slugged his second in two days and Ken Harrelson, George Scott and pinch hitter Gerry Moses each connected in the eighth inning, breaking open a 3-3 struggle.

Galen Cisco, Steve Jones and Larry Sherry combined to scatter seven hits as the Royals blanked the punchless Senators.

Jones, picked up from Washington in the expansion draft, hurled three hitless innings.

Buddy Bradford smacked

Dick Radatz' first pitch for a homer in the 12th inning, sending the Chicago White Sox past the Detroit Tigers 6-5, and Frank Fernandez homered as the Yankees trimmed the Atlanta Braves 5-2 for a 3-0 exhibition mark.

Rookie first baseman Bob

Robertson drilled a two-run first inning homer and stroked a run-scoring single in the second before leaving the game with a knee injury as the Pittsburgh Pirates downed St. Louis 6-0. Chuck Hartenstein, Barry House and Larry Killingsworth blanked the Cardinals on four hits. Robertson twisted his knee sliding in the second inning.

The Houston Astros spotted

Los Angeles two first inning runs, then bunched five in the fifth—with Doug Rader's bases-loaded triple the big blow—for a 5-2 verdict over the Dodgers.

Bradford Ruins Day For Tigers' Smith

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Monday was Detroit Tiger Manager Mayo Smith's 29th wedding anniversary. But Buddy Bradford of the Chicago White Sox must not have known.

Bradford spoiled the day for the pitcher, but requires the pitcher to hit for the pitcher throughout the game. White Sox hitters jumped on Tiger George Korince for three runs in the bottom of the sixth to tie the game. Bradford was safe on an error by Dick Redmond.

Bradford's blast came on the first pitch of the inning off reliever Dick Radatz, who was making his second exhibition appearance in his comeback bid with the Tigers.

Radatz, the former "Monster Man" with Boston in the early '60s, spent last season at Detroit's Toledo farm club in the International League.

"I thought I threw fair," Radatz said of his two-inning start. "But I was a little disappointed that I didn't get my breaking ball over the plate more than I did."

Bradford was the fifth Tiger pitcher to work. World Series hero Mickey Lolich made his first exhibition start and gave up a hit in the second inning on an error by third baseman Ike Brown, a fly ball and a single by Duane Josephson.

Detroit came back in the third on a double by catcher Hector Valle and a throwing error by catcher Josephson as Ron Woods bunted.

Rookie second baseman Dave Campbell walked in the fourth, stole second and scored on a single by Brown. Mickey Stanley, Detroit's designated pinch hitter, hit a home run in the fifth and Wayne Redmond in the sixth to give Detroit a 4-1 margin. Redmond's homer was his third in the last three games.

Stanley's homer came as he performed in the role of a designated pinch hitter. Under a proposed rule change being tried out this spring, a team is allowed to use a 10th man to hit the ball.

Oscar Robertson of the Royals loomed as the heir-apparent to Chamberlain as the No. 1 playmaker. The Cincinnati backcourt ace had 703 assists, a 9.8 per-game average. Len Wilkens of Seattle was second with 617 and 8.4 per game.

Larry Siegfried of Boston continued to lead in free throw accuracy, having hit on 87 percent of his 369 shots from the foul line.

Rose, Kovack Break Records

MARQUETTE — The 1968-69 season at Northern Michigan University was a 13-11 year in the won-lost column, but nine new marks were written into the Wildcat basketball records and two others were tied.

Ted Rose and Dave Kovack led the assault on individual records, breaking eight and tying two.

Rose, NMU's 6'6" junior forward and MVP from Louisville, Ky., set a single-game scoring mark of 54 points against Central Michigan, tied the single-game record of 22 field goals in the same game, set a field goal shooting record of 100 per cent by going 9-for-9 against Michigan Tech, and tied the free throw shooting record of 100 per cent when he hit 11-for-11 against Illinois State.

When he scored 22 points against Michigan Tech, Rose established an all-around shooting mark of 100 per cent by scoring on 9-of-9 field goals and 4-of-4 free throw attempts.

Rose also garnered two career records when he ran his three-season scoring figure to 1,421 and his total field goals made to 572, and set a single-season record for free throws made of 137.

Kovack, a 6'3" senior guard from Westerville, Ill., briefly held the all-time scoring lead at 1,341, after surpassing the old mark of 1,328 held by Gene Summers, and finished his career at 1,357.

The four-year veteran set two career records in the free throw department by attempting 411 and making 319.

Five of the records set by Rose and Kovack erased marks established by Summers. In addition to career scoring, they were single-game high, single-season free throws made, career field goals made, and career free throws attempted.

One new single-game team record was established when the 'Cats shot 61.5 per cent from the field against Michigan Tech, breaking the old mark of 59.5 set three years ago.

Schmidt Denies Retirement Story

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions are hunting for a new chief talent scout, but Coach Joe Schmidt denies a report that he intends to resign as a result of front-office shakeup.

Owner William Clay Ford confirmed Monday that the National Football League club has fired 38-year-old Carl Brett Schneider, the former All-Star linebacker who, as director of player personnel for the Lions, helped bring the team three of the league's most talented rookies.

Schmidt pooh-poohed a statement by Brett Schneider to Detroit News columnist Pete Walden that General Manager "Russ Thomas and owner Bill Ford have as much as told Joe Schmidt that he is going to be fired after next season. So Joe is going to beat them to the punch and quit."

"At this time I have no idea of quitting the Detroit Lions," Schmidt told a news conference held jointly with Ford and Thomas. He also denied that he had been planning on resigning in June.

Was Discouraged
Schmidt said, however, he had been discouraged because of the eight losses and two ties against only four victories by the Lions last season, coupled with the 1967 record of 5-7-2.

He said the discouragement at times "probably has come out by me saying I'm gonna quit or I think I may quit or what's the use, or something of that nature."

Ford asserted that Schmidt has three years remaining on his five-year contract and it "never entered my mind to fire Joe Schmidt, never."

"That contract still obtains, and if Joe wanted to talk about a renewal at any time that would be fine with me," Ford said.

Brett Schneider was in the last year of a three-year contract at $30,000-a-year.

Close Friends

A close friend of Schmidt, Brett Schneider, has spent nine years with the Lions as a player, assistant coach and player personnel director.

He is widely credited for the recommendations under which the Lions drafted cornerback Lem Barney, running back Mel Farr and split end Earl McCullough, all rookies of the year in the NFL.

Ford skirted intensive questioning of whether Brett Schneider was seeking the general manager's job by replying, "Not in those specific words, no."

But he said that Brett Schneider came to his office last Thursday "to find out what his future was and if he wasn't going to go anywhere maybe he was better off going somewhere else."

"He said he had a good job opportunity elsewhere," Ford added. "A sum of money was bandied about, which was not comparable to what he's getting here, and I told him in all good conscience he was better off going elsewhere."

Brett Schneider told the Detroit News columnist the Lions had planned to announce Monday that he "resigned to enter private business. Don't let them kid you that I resigned. I was fired."

Thomas said, "Yes, he was fired. We agreed, however, to and talk. I generally get my coaching South Carolina to a way." He said that "maybe it's school record 20 victories, veterans sometimes does disturb me" an Frank McGuire was named that he lacks full authority "but today as Basketball Coach that's still the procedure here."

Ford and Thomas denied any threats. Brett Schneider also asserted that "everybody in the National Football League knows this

Ford also said "I don't think team is all fouled up. It's not fair to give Carl all credit for having drafted the coaches in recent months but McCulloughs, the Farris' and the none wanted to work for the Detroit organization."

Schmidt said Monday that the current assistant coaches would be kept on for next season and Schmidt additional assistant.

Lacked Authority

Brett Schneider said in the newspaper story that Schmidt lacked authority to trade, waive or discipline players without approval of Thomas and Ford.

Schmidt acknowledged that before taking any such actions, he, Thomas and Ford "sit down and talk. I generally get my coaching South Carolina to a way."

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI) — Fair warning to the Ivy League and the Western Collegiate Hockey Association champions.

Coach Murray Armstrong says his University of Denver team is fully as strong as the outfit that won the NCAA hockey crown last year.

"In fact, it's practically the same team," the veteran coach said. "Almost the same personnel as last year's team, playing the same style."

The DU Pioneers will open defense of their national title against Harvard at the Broadmoor World Arena Thursday night.

Michigan Tech, which edged Denver for the WCHA title this winter by half game, will tangle with Cornell Friday night.

The two winners will settle the NCAA championship Saturday night.

Armstrong said his skaters came on strong this season after a few early-season setbacks and "surely deserved to get into the nationals again."

"We had hardly a soft touch all season," he said. "We played a 2-2 tie with Czechoslovakia, beat the Canadian Nationals twice and the U.S. Nationals once."

This is the eighth NCAA tournament for Armstrong's teams at Denver. They have won four championships and finished second twice.

Thomas said, "Yes, he was fired. We agreed, however, to say that he resigned, but only after he asked that we release it that way."

Change Ways

Ford said Brettschneider was released because "he never went by the book and stuck with the job as he was supposed to do."

During the past year, Ford said he warned Brettschneider that "he was going to have to change the way he's been operating or he was gonna be in trouble."

Thomas said Brettschneider, instead of acting solely as a talent scout, "got into coaching and several other areas."

Ford also said "I don't think it would be fair to give Carl all the credit for having drafted the McCullouchs, the Farris and the Barneys." Schmidt and Thomas were "very much on top of that situation."

Brettschneider said in the newspaper story that Schmidt lacked authority to trade, waive or discipline players without approval of Thomas and Ford.

Schmidt acknowledged that before taking any such actions, he, Thomas and Ford "sit down and talk. I generally get my way."

Schmidt said Monday that the current assistant coaches would be kept on for next season and the team is trying to hire one additional assistant.

Dr. Claud Bosworth Speaks On Job Corps

Dr. Claud A. Bosworth, Northern Michigan University's Vice President, Public Services Division, will provide the impetus for discussion Thursday evening at 7:30 at Trinity Episcopal Church. The specific topic under consideration will be the Job Corps Center for Women, although Dr. Bosworth works in a field much broader than the one program. Hopefully, as one of the chief administrators of the University he will be able to set the Job Corps in its proper perspective in campus life. His presence also provides the opportunity to discuss the University's attitude towards the Job Corps being on campus, the advantages and disadvantages as viewed by different segments of the University community.

There will be a short worship service, which will be followed by Dr. Bosworth's presentation and subsequent discussion. The women of the church will serve light refreshments, including plenty for guests. For the past two weeks formal discussion has ended about 9:30, although several people have lingered to ask further questions. Please join us.

Theodore Feldt, New York, Dies

Theodore Feldt, 65, of Painted Post, New York, died suddenly of a heart attack Tuesday, March 4. Funeral services were held in Painted Post on Friday.

Mr. Feldt was born in Abrams, Wis., and came to Gladstone with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Feldt, in 1910. He attended Gladstone schools and went to Painted Post shortly after his graduation from Gladstone High School.

Survivors include his wife, Lucille, a son, Thomas, Jr., and a daughter, Diane, three grandchildren, all of Painted Post, his mother, Mrs. Feldt, a sister, Mrs. Erna Tang, and a brother, Elmer Feldt, all of Gladstone, and a sister, Mrs. Leo (Esther) Poitras, of Painted Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Feldt and Mrs. Tang attended the funeral services and have returned home.

Rep. Suski Sensitive To Urban Problems

LANSING (AP) — The infant House Urban Affairs Committee could turn out to be the sleeper of this legislative session.

Created only 40 days ago, the committee has had little scrutiny. It has been overshadowed by publicity attending the controversial parochial and liberalized abortion law bills.

But Rep. Edward Suski, D-Flint, has been quietly expanding its sphere of influence. Today, it is expected to hold its first of three hearings with mayors of Michigan cities.

Suski, however, says he does not view the committee chairmanship as a means to create his personal dukedom in the Legislature.

"It's time to rebuild the crumbling ruins of our civilization that breed the physical and mental degeneration of our society," he said.

It is significant to note that Suski pioneered establishment of the House Civil Rights Committee in 1965. Partly as a result of Suski's committee work, civil rights legislation won approval.

Dr. Claud Bosworth
Speaks On Job Corps

Dr. Claud A. Bosworth, Northern Michigan University's Vice President, Public Services Division, will provide the impetus for discussion Thursday evening at 7:30 at Trinity Episcopal Church. The specific topic under consideration will be the Job Corps Center for Women, although Dr. Bosworth works in a field much broader than the one program.

fully, as one of the chief administrators of the University he will be able to set the Job Corps in its proper perspective in campus life. His presence so provides the opportunity to discuss the University's attitude towards the Job Corps being campus, the advantages and disadvantages as viewed by different segments of the University community.

There will be a short worship service, which will be followed by Dr. Bosworth's presentation and subsequent discussion. The women of the church will serve light refreshments, including plenty of guests. For the past two weeks formal discussion has ended about 9:30, although several people have lingered to answer further questions. Please join us.

Minimum Wage Law Cuts Down On Jobs

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — An argument persists that the minimum wage laws designed to upgrade the conditions of the nation's lowest paid workers actually may be costing them jobs.

The reasoning goes this way: Rather than pay the minimum wage of $1.60 an hour, some small-business men prefer instead to eliminate the job or install labor-saving machinery.

The argument is far from being clear cut, but there are some disturbing evidences that jobs are being lost, if not as part of a general pattern then at least in numerous cases.

Among those stating that this is the case is the National Federation of Independent Business, which claims membership of more than 200,000. The federation says it is especially disturbed about teen-age unemployment.

Decrease

A survey of 7,049 NFIB members show a slight decrease in the number of teen-agers employed last year. The decrease hardly seems significant, however, for 53 per cent said their teen-age employment remained the same.

The figure that arouses the emotions of federation officials is that 40 per cent of the reductions allegedly were caused by increases in the minimum wage, from $1.25 in 1966 to $1.40 in 1967 and $1.60 in 1968.

A federation spokesman was asked why such seemingly small wage increases would cause significant decreases in teen-age jobs. The difference between $1.25 an hour and $1.60, for instance, amounts to just $728 a year.

His answer was that for some small and marginal businesses that figure could represent a fairly large portion of profits. more to the point, he said, is that many teen-agers are sometimes totally unproductive.

Teen Idled

In small communities, he maintained, youngsters sometimes are employed by local businessmen because of a sense of responsibility to the community and desire to be helpful.

When such employers are faced not just with higher wages, but with more red tape as well, he said, they prefer to do without teen-agers. The consequences, he added, are these:

—Teen-agers are forced into idleness, which contributes a great deal to teen-age unrest.

—The amount and quality of services deteriorates. Supermarkets, for example, are less inclined to deliver grocery orders.

—Apprenticeship programs suffer. Youngsters often acquire their first training at small local businesses.

Economy Damaged
"Small business per se is not hurt," he said. "It's the economy that is being damaged. The small-business man is doing without teen-age help; he's not suffering."

In areas of population concentration, he maintains, this problem might not be so acute. But "in the hinterlands," he argues, the minimum wage laws are causing considerable teen-age job problems.

What is his solution? "An exception might be made so that apprentices are exempt from minimum wage provisions for the first six months of their employment," he said.

Brokers in the family circle, our dear ones have passed away. Passed from earth and earthly darkness.

—Into bright and perfect day.

—We have come to a new life, O'er the graves of ones we love. Strive to be prepared to meet them in the better world above.

Sadly missed by their children

What is his solution? "An exception might be made so that apprentices are exempt from minimum wage provisions for the first six months of their employment," he said.

No doubt about it, teen-age unemployment is high, and despite some improvement is remaining at a rate many times that for other workers.

He said he was ordered back to active duty on Oct. 17, 1968 and refused to go.

Sincavitch's wife, Barbara, said her husband found out last Friday that the FBI was looking for him and decided to take refuge in the church.

Wanted By FBI, Deserter Hides Inside Of Church

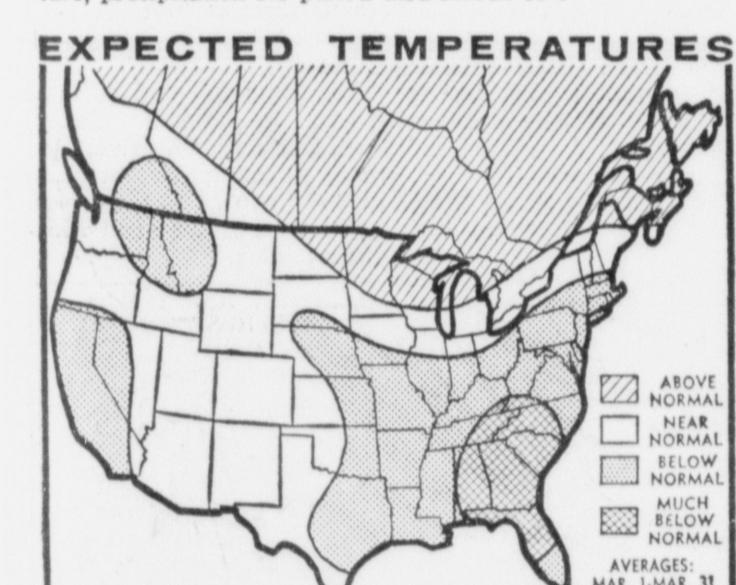

DETROIT (AP) — Twelve young men, all of whom said they were the same Army Reservist wanted as a deserter, gathered in a Detroit church Monday and challenged the FBI to arrest them.

They issued a statement saying one of them was named Thomas Sincavitch, 27, of Detroit, and was wanted by the FBI to arrest them.

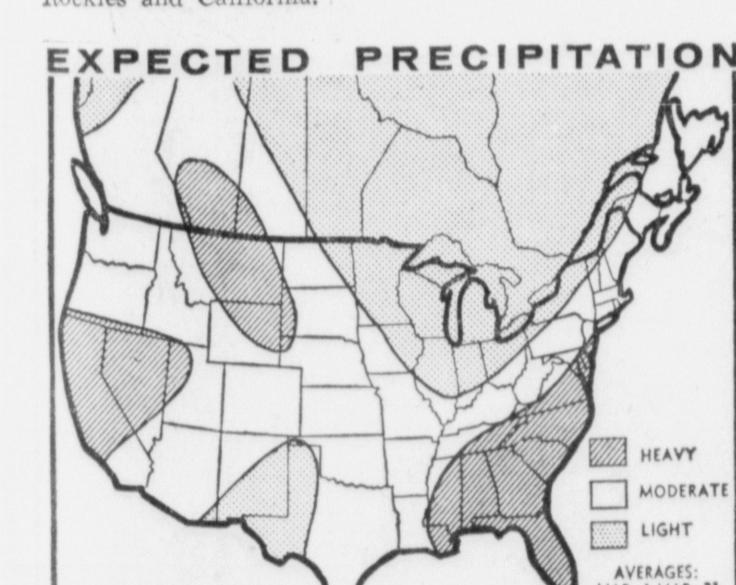

"If they want to arrest him, they'll have to take a lot of us with him."

Firm Considers Industrial Park For Sales Unit

The John Deere Manufacturing Co. is considering a site for its cooperation in sponsoring a Career Day Tuesday, April 22. The committee will assist in obtaining resource people.

Chairman Lowell Sundstrom of the Tourism Committee, at the recommendation of the Board of Directors, has been investigating the feasibility of county-wide tourist folder which would be larger and printed in greater quantity than the present folder. He has been checking with Gladstone and Rapid River for their support in financing this project. The committee will meet again on March 13 to make reports on the progress.

The Transportation Committee, on the recommendation of the Board of Directors, will meet to discuss traffic lights and the possibility of banning parking of vehicles on one side of the street. The Board voted unanimously to endorse the recommendation of the committee and so advise the City.

Industrial Site Sales Studied

Requests for the purchase of city-owned land as industrial sites will be considered by the Planning Commission when it meets at 7 p.m. Thursday, March 13, at the Chamber of Commerce building.

John Deere Co. is seeking about six acres in the industrial park area as a servicing center for the Upper Peninsula; and Gallagher Marine Co., Escanaba, wants a location on the north bay shore.

The Planning Commission will study the requests and make recommendations to the City Council. City Manager George Harvey has suggested that the city consider long-term lease arrangements rather than the outright sale of city lands.

Other business to come before the Planning Commission:

Review of a request for rezoning lots 9 through 12, Block 2, City Center Addition No. 1, from Residence A to Commercial zoning; and consideration of a request to rezone lots 16 and 17 of Block 22, I. Stephenson Co., Addition, from Residence A to Light Manufacturing.

Request from the city manager regarding purchase of a house and lot blocking future street access on S. 22nd St. and 12th Ave. S.; informal hearing on the revised layout of Precise Plat No. 5; and discussion of one-way streets and parking.

Miss Smith Tops In 'Ability Counts'

LANSING (AP) — Sharon A. Smith, a student at Saginaw Arthur Hill high school, has been named for top honors in the 1969 Michigan "Ability Counts" report awards.

Miss Smith's report on "what every employer should know about handicapped workers" was given first place by the governor's commission on the employment of the handicapped, an arm of the state department of education.

Merger Proposed For U.P. Cities

IRON RIVER—Members of governing bodies of communities in western Iron county are being asked to submit an advisory proposal on consolidation to voters.

Al Silfven, manager of the Iron River Area Chamber of Commerce, said councilmen and commissioners in Iron River, Stambaugh, Caspian, Gaasterla and Mineral Hills were asked to place the proposal on the spring election ballot.

The cities of Iron River, Caspian, Stambaugh and Gaasterla and the village of Mineral Hills have a combined population of 8,000. In area, they cover about 1,462 developed acres.

Each of the communities maintains its own police, fire department, public works department, water and sewage disposal systems in addition to administrative units.

Consolidation was recommended last year in a comprehensive regional plan prepared by the west side regional planning commission. Consolidation would be the most practical means of eliminating duplication of services, the report said. If merged, the five communities would become the eighth largest in the Upper Peninsula, surpassed only by Marquette, Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba, Menominee, Ironwood, Iron Mountain and Ishpeming.

Silfven noted that the tax base of a single city formed by the merger would be broadened considerably.

While not legally binding, the chamber's proposal would indicate if there is popular support for consolidation. He said several steps—including at least three elections—would be required before the merger could be completed.

Waren W. Fisher, 46, of 600 S. 14th St. died suddenly at 3 a.m. Tuesday at St. Francis Hospital.

He was born Jan. 17, 1923 in Gladstone and graduated from Gladstone High School in 1941. He was the Gladstone basketball captain in 1941 and also served three years (1942-45) in the U.S. Navy.

Mr. Fisher was married to the former Anne O'Connell in 1944 and they have resided in Escanaba since that time. He owned and operated Fisher's Superette since 1961 and also was employed at Harnischfeger Corp. in production control for 19 years.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Escanaba, UCT and Delta Lodge, 195 F. & A. M.

Surviving are his widow; two sons, Thomas of Escanaba and Roddy, at home; three daughters, Mrs. Frank (Penny) Stupak Jr. of Lansing, Peggy Sue and Anne Marie, both at home; three brothers, Richard of Milwaukee, Ted of Tennessee, Robert of Idaho, and one grandson.

Friends may call at the Allo Funeral Home from 3 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday and complete funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Thursday at the funeral home chapel. The Rev. Philip Lyon will officiate and burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery. Delta Lodge 195 F. & A. M. will conduct services at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Outstate Area Backed Bonds

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken today defended his proposed plan to spend more than half of the $100 million recreation bond issue in urban areas.

"I'm going to do everything within my power to convince the Legislature and the people of this state of the soundness of my program," the governor said at a news conference.

Milliken came under fire from critics who felt that $70 million should be spent on state projects such as campsites, fish hatcheries and increased parklands. Only $30 million should be spent on urban projects, critics said.

As Milliken spoke, Sen. Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, issued a statement urging distribution of the funds on a 70-30 basis.

"I fully recognize that many larger cities in Michigan urgently need more recreation facilities," Zollar said. "But the greatest strength for passage of this bond issue came from outside areas."

Firm Considers Industrial Park For Sales Unit

The John Deere Manufacturing Co. is considering a site in the Escanaba industrial park to establish a sales and service facility. The Board of Directors of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce was advised by Manager Walter Lewke Monday.

The facility would be the distribution center for heavy road construction machinery for the Upper Peninsula, Lewke said, and would occupy approximately six acres.

At the request of the City Manager George Harvey, the Civic Affairs Committee of the Chamber studied a proposal to extend the emergency parking ordinance and recommended to the Board of Directors that the ordinance continue through the summer months, limiting the parking of vehicles on one side of the street. The Board voted unanimously to endorse the recommendation of the committee and so advise the City.

Liberal Abortion Bills Introduced

LANSING (AP) — Two bills to liberalize what they termed Michigan's "antiquated" abortion laws and provide for "the emancipation of women" were outlined today by their sponsors.

Sens. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, and John McCauley, D-Wyandotte, said their proposals would be formally introduced in the Senate later today.

Gov. William Milliken told an earlier news conference that Bursley's bill "will have my support, as I understand it."

That measure would provide for termination of pregnancy when there is a "significant risk" that the pregnancy would seriously impair the physical or mental health of the mother or that the child would be born with serious physical or mental defect.

It also would allow abortion in cases of rape or incest.

Decision on the operation would be made by a physician in consultation with two other physicians, one a psychiatrist, when the mental health of the mother is a factor.

Only stipulations in the McCauley bill, which Milliken said he did not support, would be that abortions be performed by licensed physicians in licensed hospitals.

It is always costly to support the church, but we always support what we love and love what we support," he said. "It is not the building that is the most important, but it is the dedication, commitment and devotion of the people that make the church."

"In fact, the proposal was defeated in Detroit and Wayne County, which would profit greatly from the now proposed split of $30 million in local grants, $40 million for state projects and a $30 million supplemental grant for urban areas.

"If we were to go back on our word and distribute these funds on anything but a 70-30 split, we would not be keeping faith.

"This proposal," Zollar continued, "was sold to the people on the understanding that it was primarily for state parks and recreation areas on a 70 per cent state and 30 per cent local distribution."

Greetings were given by Dr. Walfrid Nelson, pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church of Escanaba and Dean of the Northeast District; Rev. Stephen Mayrand, president of the Delta County Clergy Association; Mayor Cecil Chase of Escanaba, and Rev. Sidney Jones, former pastor of Bethany Lutheran.

Rev. Carlson expressed his appreciation to the Building Committee and the Building Commission for their work. Percy Clouse, general chairman, concurred with Dr. Matson in stating that with the building now done, it is up to the congregation to fully utilize its facilities.

Following the service, 70 visiting clergy and wives and members of the building committee and other guests enjoyed a fellowship supper served by the women of the church.

Rev. Carlson said that the response to the Open House and the Dedication Service was beyond all expectations and that it was a day that the members of Christ the King and the community will long remember.
